City makes second Try for suburbs, Hearing June 19

The date of a second hearing on Toronto's amalgamation plan before the Ontario municipal board is June 19, it was announced this week. Toronto proposes to amalgamate ten suburban municipalities and parts of two others. This will be the second hearing. Toronto's first proposal was rejected by the board as improperly worded.

Should Toronto's plan to absorb the suburban municipalities be successful, it is estimated by the county auditor that county taxes for the remaining municipalities will be doubled. This, it is emphasized, is a minimum estimate.

Eighty-five percent of York county's present population and assessment lies within the area which Toronto proposes to annex. The remaining 15 percent of the county will be called upon to maintain a disproportionate amount of county expenditures which explains the potential tax increase. There is some question of procedure in the board's hearing. At the first hearing, the issue upon which the Toronto proposal was rejected was whether or not the city's proposal should be heard by the board. The board ruled against hearing it following arguments of York county council that it was improper.

Since then, it is to be presumed that the city has revised its brief but whether the board will first pass upon the eligibility of the brief and then upon the proposals contained in the brief or simply pass upon the city's proposals is still a question.

All suburban municipalities affected by the city's proposals have until June 9 in which to file replies to the city's brief. Many of the municipalities, it is said, will be unable to prepare their answers by that time. Toronto has one week after that date in which to reply to the suburban briefs and then the hearing follows three days later.

DIXON HOLIDAYS IN JULY

The Dixon Pencil Co. factory and office will be closed for holidays July 1 to July 17, it was announced this week.

SERVICE FOR TOM BURKE SATURDAY

Tom Burke, a respected Newmarket merchant, died at York County hospital late yesterday afternoon following an illness of eight weeks. Funeral service will be at St. John's church on Saturday at 10 a.m. and interment will be in St. John's cemetery.

Mr. Burke has been a familiar figure on Main St. for the last 40 or more years. He began his merchandising career with Danford Roche and after a short time there, moved to W. C. Lundy's Dry Goods where he was for 40 years. Two and a half years ago, he bought the business on the retirement of Mr. and Mrs. Lundy.

He was affectionately thought of by all who knew him. He was always ready to oblige and to assist his friends and there are many generous acts attributed to him which he made light of.

The son of James and Mary Burke, he was born in Temperanceville and came to Newmarket when his family moved here. His father operated the first bottling works in Newmarket at the corner of Main and Davis Dr. and Tom as a boy used to wash the bottles.

He was educated at St. John's school and Newmarket high school.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. A. G. Peppiatt and Mrs. Ross Trivett, both of Newmarket, three brothers, Henry and Richard of Newmarket and James of Brantford.

In the nick of time, this little Manitoba family fled waters which swamped their home in St. Norbert. Now homeless and sheltered with another family in a tiny two-room frame cottage on higher ground, they will require aid from the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund before normal life can begin for them again. Newmarket's contributions to the fund will help to rehabilitate such victims like the Dubuc children shown above with their parents.

Expect flood aid To reach $7,000 From this district

The door-to-door canvass for the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund has brought in over $1,500 to date with returns still coming in. Some of the contributions are acknowledged on page 11 and others will be printed next week. Industry is still to be heard from with Sangamo, Dixon, Davis Leather and Hoffman's preparing or conducting canvasses.

With the contributions of the Office Specialty, acknowledged last week, of $3,060, and the contributions made by local and district organizations, it is a safe estimate that the flood fund will pass the $7,000 mark.

Difficulties of totalling the exact amount are complicated by the number of contributions made directly to the fund. As near as possible, all contributions are being acknowledged through the columns of the Era and Express.

Highlighting the door to door canvass by the women's organizations, two $100 donations, from Hon. W. P. Mulock, Armitage, and from W. J. "Bill" Geer, Newmarket.

Contributions continue to be made by district organizations. The Cheerio Group in Mount Albert raised $45.75. Poplar Bank school contributed $10. Vandorf Women's Institute also made a contribution.

Newmarket Veterans' Association turned the entire proceeds of one of its regular bingos over to the fund. Held last night, the bingo raised over $200. All prizes and other costs were donated.

Newmarket High School students voted $50 from their funds for the flood relief campaign and an additional $15 to the Salvation Army campaign with the stipulation that its contribution be used in the army's flood relief work.

The Newmarket Lions club revival of the Minstrel Show last Thursday night netted the flood campaign $300. The show, described by those who had seen it during its regular run, as the best with particular plaudits to Ang West, and his "cousin" from the west.

The Newmarket Brownies are sponsoring a sale of candy and baking in the Newmarket Scout hall on Saturday, June 3, from 3 to 5 p.m. to aid the flood victims.

A special appeal has been made to all Junior Farmer groups to aid the fund. T. R. Hilliard, Newmarket, secretary-treasurer of the provincial group and assistant director of extension work, provincial department of agriculture, has sent out the appeal on behalf of Jack Cockburn, provincial president. Club members are asked to make donations from club funds or to plan special events to raise money for the flood victims.

FLOOD VICTIMS' NIGHT

The special "Flood Victims Fund" night will be held at Gray Stones in Aurora on Thursday, June 8, when four district bands are contributing their services to a night of music and modern and old time dancing.

The four bands are Max Boag's Orchestra, Don Gilkes' Orchestra, Len Burling Orchestra and Charles VanZant's Orchestra.

All proceeds go to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund.

Dedicate new field At Pickering 21st Annual Sports Day

For the 21st year, Pickering College held its annual sports day last Saturday. Present were patrons Lady Eaton, Samuel Rogers, K.C., and Andrew J. Davis. An elaborate afternoon tea was served. This year, the day was highlighted by the dedication of the new memorial field, built by the Old Boys' Association during the past 12 months.

Although the boys have been training for the day ever since the snow left the cinder track, the entire school community turned their hands toward the project on Saturday morning. At 7.30 the student committee routed all the boys from their beds, and the five remaining morning hours were spent trimming grass, marking out the new field, erecting tents and flagpoles or moving furniture.

Mr. Blackstock and his assistants, Lanier and Capes, had spent the previous week running off the preliminaries and preparing the closely timed schedule for sports day itself.

At 2 o'clock, the track and field events started, the meet being held on the new field to the rear of the school. Thirty-seven events were run altogether, with a break at half-time for the dedication ceremony.

Dedication Ceremony

The dedication ceremony began shortly after 3 o'clock. Mr. Ron Perry, past president of the Old Boys' Association, made introductory remarks, and was followed at the microphone by Samuel Rogers, K.C., chairman of the board of management. Mr. Frank Peace, president of the old boys, read a prayer of dedication and the address was given by R. E. K. Rourke, the present headmaster of the school. He also read the honor roll of students who died in the second world war, to whom the new field is dedicated. After Mr. Rourke's remarks, the plaque on the edge of the field was unveiled, and Mr. Joseph McCulley closed the ceremony with a suitable prayer.

With the completion of the dedication of the field, the athletic program continued. A large crowd of parents, friends of the school and visitors lined the sloping bank of the track, watching their sons or friends compete in everything from the shot-put to 880-yard races. High on the bank at centre field, Lady Eaton sat with Mr. and Mrs. Rourke and the other patrons, Mr. Rogers and Mr. Davis, watching the events. Near the end of the program interest became intense as two of the school color teams ran neck and neck for the year's victory.

Success of Team

At the college, students do not strive for personal victory on the track. All their effort is directed towards the success of the intramural team to which they belong. The student body is divided into three teams, red, blue and silver. Throughout the year, boys win points for their team, not only by winning games or races, but also for participating in the athletic program. Sports day is the "wind-up" of the spring athletics and of the year's intramural competition.

This year, the blue team came out on top with 1,453 points, followed by the red with 1,400, and the silver with 1,265. On sports day alone, the red team won with 550 points.

Wild animal circus Comes to fair grounds On Monday morning

On the morning of Monday, June 5, the caravans and cages of Dales Wild Animal Circus will pull onto the old fair grounds in Newmarket. This show, reputed to be one of the largest to hit the town for some time, will change from a row of trucks and wagons to a field of white tents in the few hours of early Monday morning.

Youngsters who have never seen the wonder of "setting-up" when the circus enters a town, have a thrill before them this Monday morning. The Dale Circus is equipped with all the latest devices in circus equipment. No longer do men pound stakes into the ground with heavy sledges—automatic stake drivers have replaced the circusman's browny arm. In one or two respects, however, things are still the same. The watching crowd will still thrill to see the elephants doing their share of the work in circus day preparations. Circus day, as always, will be everybody's day, Monday, June 5.

POST OFFICE CLOSES

The Newmarket post office will close on Saturday afternoon from 12.30 on, beginning June 10. The post office will be open all day Wednesday, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Outgoing mail will be sent as usual on Saturdays and the doors will remain open until 8 p.m.

HOFFMAN'S DIAMOND

Work on the softball diamond at the Hoffman plant began this week. The scrapers were in on Monday to level out the ground and the following evening 20 employees moved in with rakes to clear off the sod and level the surface. Sodding of the infield and parts of the outfield is expected to be done this week. The diamond will be used by Hoffman factory league and factory manager Dewey Kuhns indicated recently it would be available to Town League teams as soon as it was ready.

Consider new system For fire alarm At cost of $18,000

A new fire alarm system has been proposed for Newmarket. Chairman of the fire and police committee, Charles VanZant, reported at council meeting Monday night that a new system would cost $18,000. Councillors VanZant and Lorne Paynter have tabled a motion recommending that the town install the new system.

Councillor Frank Bowser suggested that a buzzer system be installed in firemen's homes. "I understood that a buzzer system had been planned," said Mr. Bowser. "We are still not giving the firemen a chance. We should have both a buzzer system and a whistle."

"A buzzer system would cost a lot of money," said the mayor. Estimates were over $100 for each home.

The committee's recommendation calls for a better distribution of fire alarm boxes and an increase in the number of boxes. Mr. VanZant said that the committee was contemplating 34 boxes, an increase of 18 and a system strong enough to carry 50 alarm boxes. Boxes would be installed in such districts as the Armitage Heights subdivision, Connaught Gardens subdivision, V.L.A. and other areas where there are none at present.

A three-man service to answer fire and police calls 24 hours a day was also suggested. It was indicated that fire insurance rates were high in Newmarket but that the underwriters would not be called again until the fire alarm system was improved.

Councillor Bowser said that three firemen did not hear the alarm and missed the fire recently which destroyed the Squires building at the north end of town. Mr. VanZant suggested improving the siren.

Councillor Rudy Renzius asked if the present alarm system could be renovated to give the same service as a completely new system. Some councillors said that the wiring in the present system was so deteriorated that the system could not be repaired.

Lake Wilcox man killed In Yonge St. accident

One man was fatally injured and two escaped with only minor scratches when a car in which they were driving south on No. 11 highway lost its right front wheel. Clinton Reed of Wilcox Lake died while being rushed to York County hospital. Alex Marshall, also of Wilcox Lake, and Ronald Guertin of Toronto were passengers in the Reed car.

Guertin, hitch hiking to Toronto, was picked up by Reed at the corner of Eagle and Yonge Sts., about a mile north of where the accident happened. The car mounted a steep bank just north of St. Andrew's College, turned completely over once and landed on its three remaining wheels.

Dr. Crawford Rose had Reed removed by ambulance to the hospital but he was dead upon admittance. Prov. Constable C. E. Whitehead investigated assisted by Cpl. Farrell.

Friends' meeting held In historic building

At the annual meeting of Friends at Yonge St. on Sunday, May 28, Friends to the number of about 100 gathered in the ancient meeting house.

Both services were harmonized in a deeply spiritual worship by a reverent stillness during which several present gave vocal testimony.

The weather and the surroundings were all that could be desired and the social hour between services provided opportunity for renewal of reminiscent acquaintances. Representatives were present from Mariposa, Toronto, Norwich, Maple, Gormley, Pine Orchard, Newmarket and Yonge St.

Dr. Peter Bryce of Metropolitan United church, Toronto, former moderator of the United church, will be the morning speaker and Rev. R. R. After union of the Methodists the present church was built in 1911 and then remodelled after a fire in 1921.

Describes press report As 'sensationalism' After lake 'riots'

"Exaggeration and sensationalism" is the manner in which Toronto press reports of "orgies" and "near riots" were described by Verne Davies, who with his father, George, are the proprietors of Cedar Beach Park, Musselman's Lake, where the events are supposed to have taken place.

"The stories are so grossly false that we are contemplating legal action," said Verne Davies. "The kind of stories carried on the front pages of The Evening Telegram and The Toronto Daily Star were exaggerated beyond all common sense."

The facts are, said Mr. Davies, that three youths were charged with having liquor in a public place by Whitchurch police. Using this fact and statements attributed to the police, both papers printed stories which were "wild exaggerations," he said.

Mr. Davies has protested to the Whitchurch township police committee which is having an emergency meeting tonight.

"Our family has a $200,000 investment in Cedar Beach in the form of a dance hall, cabins, stores, beach, picnic grounds and so on," said Mr. Davies. "Cedar Beach has been a going concern for the past 21 years or so. It is not likely that it should continue if we permitted the kind of conditions suggested in the daily press."

"There was a large crowd on Saturday night when the three youths were charged, but that was the only incident. There was no 'near riot' as the stories report Chief Dick Mulholland as saying," he said.

The Evening Telegram headline across the top of the front page read "Drinking Teen Gangs in Musselman's Lake Orgy". "The charging of three youths with having liquor scarcely suggests 'teen gangs' nor 'orgies' does it?" Mr. Davies asked.

Only woman used car dealer In new Davis Dr. development

Newmarket has the only used car lot in Ontario with a woman as the sole owner and operator. The Newmarket Motor Sales on Davis Dr. West is owned and operated by Mrs. Dorothy McDougall.

Davis Dr. West has become a heavily travelled and promising business street in the past few months. It started with Bell's Corners at the corner of Davis Dr. and Yonge St. Earl Bell and Frank Carr bought a 16-acre field from Dorothy McDougall and built Bell's Corner, a service station and restaurant.

The International Harvester sales and service location was established east of Bell's Corner. George Constable and Norman Magee are in business together at this location and Mr. Constable also built a new residence on the same property.

Six weeks ago, after holding an auction sale of her Holstein dairy herd, Mrs. McDougall set up her own business licensed under Newmarket Motor Sales, east of the Constable and Magee property. To her own knowledge she is the only Ontario woman owning and operating a used car lot. One woman used car lot owner in Toronto sold her business last winter.

When asked why she chose this unusual business as a career, she said "I have always been interested in cars. A few of my friends and relatives are engaged in the business and car gossip has been my daily fair for a long time."

In spite of recent set backs suffered by experienced dealers, Mrs. McDougall believes a small but complete stock of serviceable cars kept moving will make her business a success.

Specialty cabinet maker at 80' Recalls starting to work at 11

Still working as a cabinet maker at 80 years of age, Arthur Robert Low, 16 Timothy St., started his trade when he was 11 years old. Mr. Low celebrated his 80th birthday on Monday, May 22. He recalled that he started work at Cane's factory at four cents an hour working ten hours a day and 59 hours a week.

Born in London, England, he came with his parents to Holland Landing when he was seven months old. The family then moved to Newmarket. Mr. Low's father, William Low, at one time had the contract for lighting the street lamps in Newmarket.

Commenting on the recollections of "Allie" Haines, Newmarket barber who recently retired at 74, he too recalled the coal oil street lamps in Newmarket. Mr. Low said that he once cleaned the lamps for his father when he was ten years old. In the winter when darkness came early, before his father was home from work, he lit the lamps himself.

When he was 20, Mr. Low went to Toronto and worked as a cabinet maker until he returned to Newmarket 15 years ago. He was night watchman at Pickering College for two years and has been a cabinet maker at the Office Specialty Mfg. Co. for 13 years.

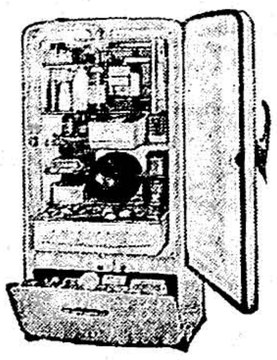

"I have been working at carpentry and cabinet making for 68 years in all," he said.

On his birthday, fellow employees presented him with a large artificial red rose at 7 a.m. and when the clock was "punched" at night they gave him two large boxes of chocolates. Friends gathered at his home for a celebration in the evening.

Mr. Low married Araminta Bacon in Newmarket. She died seven years ago and his sister, Mrs. Jennie Patchet, came to live with him at 16 Timothy St. A sister-in-law, Mrs. Will Bacon, lives at 12 Eagle St.

Every effort is being put forth to interest all teen-agers in playing with one of these four teams and more attention is being given to a large participation in the games than simply in winning the contests. OTTAWA LETTER

by

"Jack" Smith, M.P.

North York

The cry for Senate reform is in the air again on parliament hill. Every so often the demand is heard here and there throughout the country that some action be taken to reform Canada's senior legislative house.

The senate or upper house of the parliament of Canada differs from the House of Commons in both constitution and rules. The senators are appointed by the government in power for life. Members of the house of commons are elected directly by the people for a term of five years.

The house of commons is constituted on the principle of representation by population and the Senate according to territorial divisions.

The Senate has 103 members representing each of five territorial divisions, the western provinces, Ontario, Quebec, the Maritimes and Newfoundland.

The assent of the Senate is necessary before any bill passed by the house of commons can become law. The Senate may introduce any legislation except where such legislation calls for the expenditure of money.

'Like the Weather'

Like the weather, the Senate has been the subject of discussion for many years, but no government ever has done anything about it.

As far back as 1886 resolutions have been introduced in the house calling for reforms, and the leader of the opposition introduced one last week which was defeated by a large majority.

Many who voted against the resolution may have favored some form of change in the make-up of the Senate but disagreed with the method adopted by the leader of the opposition. I am satisfied the vote with a very large majority against the opposition leader's resolution does not mean there is not a very considerable sentiment in the commons in favor of Senate reform.

The government took the stand that in view of the forthcoming Dominion-provincial conference to discuss ways and means of coming to an agreement on the amending of our constitution, this was not the time to consider Senate reform.

In defeating the Drew motion the government recognized that the question of Senate reform is certainly one which is being given thought by serious minded Canadians but contended that the time to consider the question is after consultation with the provinces on the methods to adopt in amending our constitution.

The whole question was given a new lease of interest by a counter resolution introduced in the Senate by Calgary Senator Ross calling for reform of the House of Commons. The resolution urges that the subject of Commons reform be referred to a special committee of both Houses.

To me the controversy and discussion is all to the good. It will inspire a serious study of our whole system of government and administration and much good in the interests of the people could be the result.

Questions

There is practically no limitation on the questions a member may ask relative to the affairs of government in any department.

Questions asked by members often take a staff of experts many days and sometimes weeks in the gathering of data and compiling of answers.

An opposition member recently asked the number of Canadians who were held as prisoners of war during World War II and the number of days each had been held. A partial answer was given without very much trouble that the total number of prisoners was 9,552 and it was pointed out the number of days could not be given, without an examination of each file. The questioning member however insisted on receiving an answer so after several weeks' work an answer was given showing the number of days served. The answering of the question cost the taxpayers a considerable sum, but the case illustrates that public business is exactly what the words imply and every detail of business is open for scrutiny by the members of the house.

Coal Imports

In the year 1949 Canada imported over 21 million tons of coal from the United States and 331,457 tons from the United Kingdom.

YORK COUNTY

In Review 1615 - 1949

This is another of a series of articles on the history of York County, edited by Hugh Griggs, Mimico, from information compiled during the past four years by W. G. Goddard, staff member of Weston Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. York County celebrates its centenary this year.

In the year 1802, the area of the home district was decreased by the formation of the district of Newcastle; the home district consisted of the counties of York and Simcoe as they were then constituted.

The combined population of the town of York and the townships of York and Etobicoke was 659. At that time, only 1,109 acres of land were under cultivation in these townships.

A public subscription was taken up this year in the town of York to pay for the extension of Yonge St. from Eglinton Ave. to the town of York.

An excerpt from the brief historical sketch of Queen's York Rangers tells us that in May, 1802, the war office considered the situation to be no longer dangerous and ordered the disbandment of the Queen's Rangers. The order was put into effect on October 25, 1802. The Rangers' service to Upper Canada had been praiseworthy and enduring. Some of the personnel returned to England, but many settled in and about York and Niagara.

Records show us that in 1803 the population of the town of York was 456 and the tax collection amounted to 62 pounds.

The Second Assessment Act was passed, making the basis of taxation more uniform and placing more responsibility in the hands of the courts of quarter sessions.

'53 Swine'

In the township of York there were 1,109 acres of cultivated land; 60 oxen, 113 milch cows, 45 unhorned cattle, 53 swine, one grist mill, two saw mills and two taverns.

Lt.-Gov. Hunter issued a proclamation that a public open market should be held every Saturday at York. The first market was held on November 5 on the south side of King St. at Church St. Six acres of land bounded by King, Church, Front and Jarvis Sts. were set aside for the York market.

Christian Reesor, mentioned earlier, made the journey from Franklin county, Pennsylvania with his sons, John, Abraham, Christian and Peter, to their holdings in Markham county, Upper Canada, in the year 1804.

This same year, Abraham Stouffer and his followers settled on the site of Stouffville.

The year 1804 is also outstanding in that the provincial legislature of Upper Canada voted 1,000 pounds for the purpose of laying new roads and bridges. This is the first time the province voted money for such a purpose. A board of commissioners was appointed by and responsible to the governor-in-council to expend this money.

The following year, the agreement with the Mississauga Indians for the "Toronto purchase" was confirmed. There is a painting in the city hall at Toronto depicting the scene of this transaction.

Fugitives from the French Revolution began to settle on Yonge St., near Bond Lake, at this time. Rene Augustin, Comte de Chalus, Le Chevalier de Marseal, Querton St. George, John Furan and Ambrose de Farcy were among the first.

Appoint Officials

The Act 46, George III, Chap. 5 passed in 1806 gave the Courts of Quarter Sessions the authority to appoint officials in municipalities that did not hold town meetings to elect them.

About the same time, the grant for building roads and bridges was increased to 1,600 pounds.

The next year, the Blue School was opened at Church and Adelaide Sts. on June 1.

The district public school act was passed by the legislative assembly of Upper Canada, in which the provincial parliament enunciated for the first time the principle that education for the youth of the province was the responsibility of the government. Previous to this and for a long time after, education remained for the most part in the hands of private persons and private institutions. This act provided for one public or grammar school for each of the eight districts.

The year 1808 marked further progress which, in January, the first regular mail service from Lower Canada was inaugurated.

The records of township meetings for the township of King go back to this year. The town clerk was William Haines; assessors, Jacob Hollingshead and William Hughes; collector, William Tyler; overseers of the roads, Henry Harman, Thomas Taylor, Rufus Rogers; poundkeeper, Isaac Hollingshead; town wardens, William Kennedy and John Nichol.

At this time, the population of the town of York was 577 and the population of the township of King was 160.

Article No. 9 will deal with the war 1812-1814 for the most part.

ENJOYED SHOW

The editor: My wife and I have been spending our honeymoon here in your grand town, staying with very good friends. Last night (Thursday) we had the pleasure of attending the Minstrel Show put on by your Lions club.

Believe me, sir, Newmarket should feel very proud of her boys and should support and encourage them in every way.

I should like to draw particular attention to the Harmonica Band which so ably filled in during intermission. They certainly did a wonderful job and deserve a lot of credit and encouragement for the way they played and put over their selections.

I am given to understand they have only been together for two or three months. They are very, very good.

I believe that one of your townswomen and would-like-to-be-critics made some not very encouraging remarks about that band. I would say that person doesn't know what she is talking about. In my estimation, she should now write an apology to those boys.

Yours sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. J. D .Campbell,
Toronto.

EDITORIAL REPRINTED

The editor: Enclosed please find a tear sheet of our editorial page of today in which we reproduce a portion of your editorial on the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund.

Cordially yours,

Farm Federation News

The monthly meeting of the Whitchurch twp. unit, Federation of Agriculture was held at Pine Orchard school Thursday, May 25, at 8 p.m. Some of the directors reported dangerous approaches at some of the railroad crossings. A clear vision of the track is shut off by brush and cut banks. The secretary was instructed to write the council about this.

An advertisement was read of a cottage for sale with taxes only $10. In our township, each child costs for education from $90 to $100 per year. This brought a discussion on equalization of farm assessment for school purposes.

A committee was appointed of John Sytema, Melbourne McMillan, George Boynton, to explain to the individual members of the township school boards the objectives of the township unit. The directors reported that equalization of farm assessment for education costs and township school area were two subjects the township farm people were interested in.

By discussion it was brought out that individual or small group action would have little, if any, value in getting action with those two problems. With a director in each school section and with the farm people giving assistance to form a committee in each school section, it was thought that a survey could be made of the wish of the township farm people or what action should be taken with these two problems.

This would be great assistance to our township council.

The Newmarket Era 1852 — The Express Herald 1895

Published every Thursday at 142 Main St., Newmarket, by the Newmarket Era and Express Limited. John A. Meyer, editor. Subscription $4 for two years, $2.50 for one year, in advance. Single copies are 5c each. Member of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and the Audit Bureau of Circulations. Authorized as Second Class Mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

We're off this afternoon to Windsor for the annual convention of the Ontario-Quebec division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association. The two-day meeting is going to be jammed full with sight-seeing and business sessions if the program, a copy of which we received the other day, is strictly followed.

A highlight of the meeting, of course, will be the annual awards for the best editorial pages in the various circulation classes, for the best front pages and the best all-round papers. There is strong competition for these awards and they may be justly described as climaxes for many editors' efforts to continually better their newspapers.

Windsor is an ideal city for sight-seeing. The great Canadian Ford plant is there and we have been invited to go through it. We have also been warned to bring identification papers, birth certificates and the like, so that we can cross the border for trips through some of Detroit's factories and industrial shrines. Convention headquarters are at the Prince Edward hotel where we will be staying.

The most enjoyable aspect of these conventions is the opportunity they afford for editors to compare notes. These are paradoxical times for the weekly newspaper business, just as they are for most businesses. We are doing more business than before, but the cost of doing business continues to climb. Anything we can learn from our fellow editors which will permit us to cut costs is valuable information indeed.

We will be bringing back masses of information which, in forthcoming columns, we will pass on to you.

Like, we imagine, most of North America, we tuned in on the "Flood the Fund" radio program from Maple Leaf Gardens on Friday night. It was an impressive performance, the more so when one considers the difficulties under which the show was produced. The master of ceremonies, Jack Carson, did not see his script until broadcast time and several other performers appeared on stage without rehearsal.

Members of the cast came from three countries, England, United States and Canada, most of them by plane and arriving, some of them, minutes before broadcast time. We doubt that such an array of talent could be gathered for money alone yet they cheerfully gave their time for the benefit of the Manitoba flood victims. One commentator remarked that with all the difficulties of staging such a large show, the performers worked harder for the flood victims than they sometimes do for the huge salaries they normally are paid.

A by-product of the show was the fresh realization that Canada has singers, actors and producers which rank with the best the United States has. We are so frequently the audience for American shows that we are inclined to discount our Canadian performers. Friday night it was the other way around with hundreds of American radio stations asking to broadcast the show.

It's a revelation of Newmarket's growth to drive about the outskirts of town and see the number of new homes under construction. It won't be long before Eagle St. will be lined with homes and, for that matter, the north side of the town line east of Newmarket is another area which will soon be solidly built up. South of Newmarket, more new homes are being built. The opening of two large subdivisions, the one by Crossland Farms directly west of Newmarket, and the other, Evanslea, east of Newmarket, is spurring development. Stanley Miller's subdivision at the west edge of town across from Armitage Heights is another rapidly building residential area.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

MAY 29, 1925

Mr. Bert Ayers, son of Mr. George Ayers, Newmarket, and Mr. Ross Hughson, son of Mr. Stephen Hughson, Toronto, have successfully passed their College of Pharmacy examinations. Both young men received their high school education in Newmarket. Mr. Ayers received his preliminary training as a druggist with Mr. W. J. Patterson.

Last Saturday Mr. William O'Holloran completed his 27th year as engineer at the water works.

During the severe thunderstorm on Friday night the barn on the farm of Mr. Mark Graham was struck by lightning and completely destroyed by fire. The farm is a little north of Sharon and Mr. James Smith is the tenant. The loss is estimated at $4,000.

Coldest May 24 for 76 years.

Mr. Wilfrid Cochrane was home from university for the weekend and left on Monday to resume his position on a passenger boat on the northern lakes for the summer.

Mr. Chas. Rogers was a soloist at the entertainment in Kettleby last Saturday night. Miss Vivian Webster accompanied him at the piano.

Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arthur were given a farewell party and presented with a library table. They are leaving Armitage to take up residence in Toronto.

Miss Beatrice Mills, nurse-in-training at the Toronto General hospital, was visiting her mother, Mrs. Geo. Mills, on Tuesday.

Mr. E. Widdifield and family of Uxbridge spent Tuesday with his sister, Mrs. W. C. Allen, on their way to their new home in Manitoba.

JUNE 1, 1900

A large number attended the confirmation in St. James' church, Sharon, last Friday. Those confirmed were: Miss Sarah Fletcher, Misses Alice and Mary Wesley, Miss Alice Rose and Master Gordon Kenyon.

The family of Mr. Lambie, who have purchased Mr. Groome's residence on Church St., arrived here from Dakota yesterday.

Mrs. J. G. Lowe, Brantford, formerly of Newmarket, leaves this week for Scotland where she intends to spend the summer.

Mr. Geo. Kay, Sutton, has finished his exams at the University of Toronto. He has secured a position as assistant geologist under Professor D. A. P. Coleman of the University of Toronto. He will be two months in the north country.

Ed and Jack Doyle and Jack Kelly are playing lacrosse in New York city with the Markham team, champions of Ontario for 1899, against the Albany team, champions of the United States for 1899.

Dr. Charles McCracken, son of Mr. A. J. McCracken, is over from California on a three weeks' visit accompanied by his wife and child. The doctor studied with the late Dr. Rogers and left Newmarket 19 years ago. He was one of the boys of the Newmarket band who accompanied the Press Excursion to Port Arthur about 20 years ago.

Orders are coming into the Specialty Works so quickly that all the old factory is working from 7 to 10 o'clock every night. Several more bench hands have been taken on this week.

A VERY DIFFICULT DECISION

Question of principle

The York county auditor estimates that should Toronto absorb the suburban municipalities, the taxes required for the administration of what is left of the county will be double those now paid. This, it is emphasized, is a minimum estimate, and allows for only those expenditures required by law. If the county should undertake a special project, such as reforestation, taxes would be further increased.

This raises a question of principle: why should Toronto be permitted to directly cause higher taxes upon municipalities 30 or 40 miles away?

The north end of the county, where the bulk of the increased taxes would be paid, has had nothing to do with the circumstances which have led the city to make its decision to amalgamate. Had these municipalities a voice in the city's administration, there might be reason for the taxes. They have not. There is no justifiable excuse for penalizing the rest of the county for Toronto's situation.

But if a responsibility for the city's plight is recognized outside the city by the imposition of higher taxes, why limit it to the rest of York county? Why not the whole of the province? If the province acknowledges the city's claim to the suburbs, as at least the premier does, let the province also acknowledge the injustice of penalizing the rest of York county by the city's expansion.

For that matter, why should the suburbs be brought within the city's high tax orbit without an opportunity to at least vote on it? Can suburban municipal administrations be said to act for the people, either for or against, on such an important issue? The city offers improved municipal services in return for higher taxes. The residents should have an opportunity to decide whether they wish to pay the price.

Must prepare for worst

Toronto has voted to press again its claim to the suburbs before the municipal board, York county council whose opposition to the city's plans led to the latter's initial set-back before the board, will no doubt continue to oppose the city. It is conjectural whether the county will be successful again.

Toronto's ills are financial. The city cannot fully support itself on its present assessment. Toronto believes that by increasing its assessment by taking in the suburbs, it will cure itself. It is apparently supported in this opinion by the province. Unless there is a radical change in thinking among civic and provincial authorities, amalgamation is inevitable.

The members of council have as their common objective the defeat of the city's present plan of amalgamation, or at the least, a modification of it. If the city is successful, the problems of those municipalities outside the amalgamation area will be different from those absorbed by the city.

A proposal for a committee of municipalities outside the amalgamation area, to study and prepare for the problems which could arise from the success of the city's endeavors, was subordinated to needs of immediate opposition to the city. There are, however, adequate grounds for such a committee within the framework of the county council so that those municipalities outside the city's scope will be able to maintain a county administration should the worse occur.

The most immediate consideration, should Toronto's plans be approved, would be the adjustment from a rural-urban administration to a completely rural administration. Other concerns requiring immediate attention would be the disposal of county assets no longer required, the re-adjustment of expenditures shared by the city and county. And before any amalgamation scheme is officially accepted, such a committee would have the urgent responsibility of setting forth just how the county would be affected, and pressing for the alleviation as much as possible of the inevitable penalties which would follow.

The county should maintain a united front in its opposition to the city's current amalgamation plan and in its proposal of alternative plans such as the formation of a county metropolitan scheme. There is need, however, for the study of and preparation for the future of the county should the city be successful.

Cleaning up roadsides

Ontario highways are frequently pleasant avenues of travel because of the rows of trees on either side. The highways are most pleasant in May when the first buds are on the trees or in the fall when the leaves are rainbow-hued. But such beauty is discouraged when one drives past remains of old election posters, auction sale bills, dances and every kind of irrelevant information, faded and tattered and ugly, pasted in endless rows to every tree and telephone pole in sight.

Just as discouraging are unsightly advertisements for refreshment stands, tourist homes and the like, in garish display which mars the beauty of the roads. Surely there must be some means of regulating this ugliness by limiting the size and number of signs and prohibiting altogether the nailing of advertisements to trees and poles.

The Ontario government, with uniform road markers, has shown what can be done. If the government would enforce the example, our roads would be better invitations to the tourist industry.

Davis Dr. bridge a hazard

The heavy summer traffic has begun again but still nothing has been done to reduce the hazard of the bridge on Davis Dr. just east of the railway crossing. The bridge is extremely narrow with the inner parapets erected in what is normally the line of traffic. There is no warning of this except a reflector on the west end which, when we passed it Saturday, was so coated with mud and dust that it couldn't reflect. There is no reflector at the east end of the bridge.

With the improvements to Davis Dr. west of Main St and out to Yonge St., the volume of traffic over the bridge will increase. Much of that traffic will be at night. It's virtually impossible to approach the bridge with confidence in face of the blindng lights of oncoming traffic. Strangers to the road risk smashing head-on into it.

We do not recall any serious accidents at the bridge because of its narrowness or because of its lack of warning signs, but this should not be permitted to excuse the lack of any improvement to it. The conditions for a serious accident are there and the bridge will remain a hazard until they are removed or until proper warnings are posted.

'When Russia thinks she can win'

A high ranking R.C.A.F. officer was asked if or when he thought there would be war. His reply, and it was described as typical of the thinking of the armed services, was: "The day Russia thinks she can win."

Canadians will, we believe, accept this coldly factual estimate of the future for what it is, a challenge to our faith in our institutions. Our security does not rest exclusively with our military strength. A financial panic could make us easy victims to Russian expansion. Unstable governments, a national selfishness, an individual dedication to temporal pursuits, the clash of faction; all these contain the seeds of our defeat.

Let us strengthen our armed forces, yes. But let us not place our faith wholly in our guns. We must strengthen our faith in the validity of our free and democratic institutions, and our Christian tradition.

The Forum:

Natural prices hold customers

(The Rural Scene)

One-third of Canada's post-war employment resulted from the purchases of foreign customers. A large part of this foreign trade created buying power among farmers and workers in primary industries who were enabled to buy from other Canadians in secondary industries.

Many foreign customers cannot now buy from us because they have not enough dollars, which is another way of saying that the dollars they have do not go far enough in buying our goods, or that our prices are too high in relation to their ability to exchange goods with us.

The lessening of resistance to sales by the acceptance of the best prices we can get at home and abroad would increase the exchange of goods. Increased exchange of goods would give Canadians the use of more goods. The use of goods is the real standard of living.

It's a Puzzling life

(The Financial Post)

Dear Mr. Combines Commissioner:

You are interested in situations where people in the same line of business charge the same price for identical goods.

Did you see what the city fathers of London—yes, the Ontario one—have just done? With their official approval all London barbers are changing their price from 60 to 75 cents.

And if you want to learn something else, go into a London shoe repair shop. Hanging on the wall is a placard "Official price list, London and District Shoe Repair Association". This, too, had official blessing and sanction.

Yet you hustle some other industries into court with your allegations of industry price agreements.

Are you going after the barbers and shoe fixers and the London city fathers for "co-operating in conspiracy"?

What a puzzling life you must lead.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

Bird watching pays off, especially if you happen to be watching a whooping crane. There's bags of publicity in it. I must remind our sports editor of that in my thesis on "bird watching and extensive fishing as opposed to active sports."

I was having a quiet snooze in the reading room at the Karling Konservation Klub the other night when one bird says to the other bird, "I say, Pidgeon Toes, what's all this in the daily papers about the whooping crane? It says that the first whooping crane ever hatched in captivity hatched."

"Hatched in captivity hatched? Only a bird brain like you, Warble Ikk, would ever employ English construction like that. It's murder," said Pidgeon Toes.

"I mean the first whooping crane ever hatched in captivity, comma, hatched," said Ikk. "It's simple. The bird was borned in captivity — the first whooping crane that is."

"I say, I should think we would have heard of this before," Toes said, turning to me. "What is this whooping crane species anyway? It's no relative of mine I'm sure. I have heard of whooping cough and I've heard of whooping it up but a whooping crane is news to me."

It was news to me, too. In all the experiences of my bird watching career I had never come across a crane that whooped. (I admit that I had never heard of the monster but I assure my readers that I shall certainly arrange for an interview with one at the earliest possible convenience to the nearest whooping crane and myself).

Ikk continued reading the A.P. Story. It is really too bad that the C.P. didn't get it. These animal stories really pep up reader interest. Take for instance the Amethyst cat called Simon, the British cat hero on the Yangtse who died a while back, rest his soul. Good reading, all of it.

At the same time one must be careful about printing loose stories about the natural habits of the birds. Bird lore is not to be treated loosely by the mere run-of-the-mill journalists.

It was only last year that a great flap was made in a daily paper about an editor in northern Ontario finding the so called place where the great blue heron goes to die, I seem to recall.

It began something like this "Today I flew in an airplane to the hitherto unknown burial ground of the great blue heron," etc., etc. Turned out to be a complete phrump. A naturalist unfounded the whole thing.

"Bird world in a dither," Warble Ikk read out of the paper. "Excited bird watcher today reported the birth of the first whooping crane ever hatched in captivity.

"He becomes whooping crane number 38. Only 37 other birds of the nearly extinct species are known. Once these graceful birds, 4½ feet tall wintered in great flocks along the Texas-Louisiana coast.

"This morning the bulletin came that shook the bird world. Bob Allen of the National Audubon Society confirmed the big event. He got a look at the baby through a spotting scope at 1,000 yards! The newcomer's name is Rusty, offspring of Jo and Crip Whooping Crane who started nesting more than a month ago. Must remind the hospital editor to put that in the birth column.

"Imagine spotting a baby whooping crane at 1,000 yards!" cried Ikk. "But there is a sad part of this story. It says here that Rusty won't have no brothers or sisters to play wit."

How hard does the squeeze play on the farmer have to become before the farmer will begin to fight?

Our feed prices are near, or at, an all-time high at the present time. Dairy ration, $75 to $80 per ton; hog ration, $70 to $75 per ton; hay, $30 per ton; straw, $20 per ton. We have to take a reduction in the price of butter. Now there is pressure being put on the government to lift the embargo on U.S.A. pork products.

We would have to compete with soft corn fed hogs from the States. This winter, the Ontario hog feeder has had to feed hogs at a high cost and to have the prospect of a lower price is not pleasing. But the lower income for the dairy farmer and the hog producer may be the little bit of pressure the farmer needs to bring him up fighting.

There is the thought with some farmers to just let the pressure groups force the farm prices down and hold wages and other prices up and in the end, the farmer will have the food and can eat while the others starve.

There are farmers who are so mentally lazy that rather than study and attend farm meetings, they say nothing can be done—why try? Just put another blanket on the farm. It is a nice thing to leave the children when you're gone.

Then we have the big, strong fellow who can put in a long day's work and doesn't need much sleep. This man buys more cows, feeds for pigs, rents more land. This man plays out — gets sick, goes to hospital.

Too bad all farmers are not big and strong. If we were, there would be no need of any Federation of Agriculture. One man said: "Now if everyone at his own job will work along and doesn't bother what the other fellow is doing, everything will be all right."

It is hard to get the farmer to think in terms of anything but soil, stock and crops. When the farmer takes care of the soil and stock, he is contributing his full share to our economy, and should not be called to think about anything else. The farmer in the past 25 years has increased his yield in crops and stock. Our soil and stock may still stand increasing.

When it comes to a point when there is more money made on farm produce, from the farm gate to the consumer, than the farmer gets, it is high time the farmer looks where the most money is.

It may be fine to tell the farmer to go home and reduce his cost of production. We farmers reduce our cost of production but when we allow speculation in our coarse grains and our farm produce, what does it get the farmer to reduce costs? The only way for the farmer to stop speculation in food supplies, is to market through a farmer's selling agency and hold at least a controlling interest in it.

The farmer does not like to sell his produce and in a few months time see the mark-up to the consumer as high as 100 percent. One thing the public must consider is that the price quoted farmer in the newspapers and on radio is by no means net. A farmer after paying costs on a 30 dozen case of eggs may only have a few cents profit.

With our soils becoming depleted of minerals, we have to buy fertilizer at high cost to produce eggs, butter, milk, meat, vegetables. Many people think the farmer gets everything from the soil at no cost. In the past, the soil has been robbed and now we must pay up. Cheerio.

THE OLD HOME TOWN — By STANLEY

An Aurora Opinion

By

DOROTHY BARKER

Aurora Editor

The recent rash of beautification that has broken out all over the province seems to be as epidemic as the recent outbreak of mumps and measles though less painful. Practically every town and hamlet in Ontario has become beauty-conscious. There are planting schemes, garden competitions and "clean-up, paint-up" campaigns, all getting a goodly share of publicity in all the weeklies.

There seems to be one thing missing, however. In not one of the numerous articles that have come to our attention has the participation of school children been mentioned. We could make one exception, there is a municipality to the south whose weekly paper asked the parents and teachers to co-operate by teaching the children that flowers in public places are meant to beautify and should be protected rather than destroyed.

A beautification campaign should not be confined to mowing lawns and planting flowers. Though we have an excellent and conscientious street cleaner in Aurora, one man cannot cope with the carelessly discarded cigaret boxes and chocolate bar wrappings. Weekends the streets are littered with trash. We have to admit the average citizen ignores refuse buckets placed in front of restaurants and milk bars, but the percentage that would use them might make it worthwhile to place about six on Yonge St. in the business section.

If time is not already allotted, a brief period once a week in the schools, devoted to the subject of civic pride, would train our future ratepayers to appreciate the value of a clean, beautiful town. Children have always proved eager beavers when approached to take part in any organized effort, whether it is planting flowers or being a tidy monitor. If it is systematically brought to their attention that the town belongs to them as well as to the grown-ups, taking part in the protection of flowers and keeping the streets tidy will become a habit.

Children are notoriously distructive and untidy. It is not sufficient to tell them once to stay off the flower beds and put their waste paper in a basket, it requires a constant reminder.

When school is out we hope that the parents will continue to impress the children and take it to heart, themselves, with the importance the appearance of their home town plays in giving it a high public rating.

WINS AWARD

Mr. R. T. Caldwell, Newmarket, has again qualified for the National Quality Award of the Life Underwriters Association of Canada.

FOOT INJURED

Mr. Wilmot Hill, Davis Dr., Newmarket, severely injured his foot when he caught it in a Roto-tiller last week.

Gardens and more gardens, all full of gay tulips! I don't think that tulips ever were lovelier than they are this year! Everywhere you go, in this flower-loving town, you see them—all colors. And when the sun shines on them they open wide just like gaily colored tea cups!

"Beautiful" seems too mild a word to describe their loveliness, for they are gorgeous, they are stately, they are haughty.

If you are near the west end of town, go down the east side of Lorne Ave. between Botsford and Timothy Sts. and see the garden full of lovely tulips planted by Mr. Basil McHale. It is one gorgeous blaze of color—tulips of every shade and other blossoming spring perennials to add to their loveliness. Basil himself has had quite a seige of it in York County hospital but now is again home and has his bed downstairs where he can look out into his garden—the garden he has taken such pride in and enjoy the beauty of each flower as it opens.

What a tonic he must have found it! I am sure he enjoys every fresh flower that opens, and smiles at him through the window! It really is a picture!

And then the garden next door, belonging to Mrs. Hoare and her son, George, a continuation of Basil's as regards tulips, it too is like a picture in a frame. And that reminds me of a picture Mrs. McHale showed me at Basil's request—one taken of his garden last year when the tulips were in flower. A color photograph taken by that marvellous color photo artist, Mr. Colclough, teacher at St. Andrew's College, Basil's neighbor, who has color photography for his particular hobby.

If you recall the few delightful pictures he had at the art exhibit in the town hall last winter, you will know what a beautiful picture he made of this little gem of a garden. Color photography is a wonderful hobby.

Then, last Saturday, we were again privileged to wander at will through Newmarket's most beautiful of all our lovely gardens and again see the myriads of tulips of every shade and color, gently swaying in the breeze at the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Kidd on Gorham St. As one flower lover said, the tulips were dancing! And indeed it looked like a dainty fairy dance, as they moved this way and that way all in unison. It was a pretty sight!

From early afternoon till twilight Newmarket flower lovers came and went. Those who had never visited the gardens before could scarcely believe their eyes at the hundreds upon hundreds of tulips all in full bloom curving round that wonderful sweep from the edge of the woods beyond, following the course of the stream nearly to Gorham St. entrance.

Besides the tulips were hundreds of other early spring flowers, flowering shrubs and lovely trees. Rockery flowers and perennials giving promise of future bloom. Not far from the entrance is a flowering crab which goes by so many other names. We used to call it the May Tree, and underneath it was such a lovely clump of white narcissus.

There are clumps also of the delicate blue grape hyacinth and baby iris, great round mounds of bright pink and yellow and white rockery flowers. Little paths go down the bank towards the creek and here and there you come to a "vista" through the trees where you can look along the creek and Mr. and Mrs. Kidd have made it into a picture just with trees and shrubs and spring flowers.

Then suddenly you come out into another section and on a whole row of flowering pansies, while above are bunches of leopard bane (an awful name for such a lovely flower), that daisy-like yellow blossom that flowers one of the earliest of our perennials—and little bunches of polanarius with their pink and mauve flowers. Oh, by the way, I hear that in England they call it "Jerusalem cowslip" — that really sounds much nicer than polanarius.

Away over at the side near the woods is a whole square of lily-of-the-valley, all coming into bloom and in another section scores of peonies which will blossom soon.

One thing that took my attention was some tulips with three and four on one stem, so of course, I had to ask was it a new variety or was it a freak? Mrs. Kidd laughingly said it was a freak and they could not account for it at all. But they were certainly interesting. I see my pen is running away with me—I had better end up right here—but I haven't told half!

York Junior Farmer Picnic, dance June 9

At a recent meeting of the directors of the York County Junior Farmers in the agricultural office at Newmarket, it was decided to hold their annual picnic and dance at Cedar Beach Gardens, Musselman's Lake, as usual on the second Friday, June 9. The afternoon will be taken up with a sports program. Instead of mixed ball teams, it was decided this year to have softball for the boys and a volleyball tournament for the girls' clubs. Tug-of-war and other novelty events are being arranged to round out the program.

Following the practice of recent years the various clubs or group will make up their tables and the association will provide the drinks for lunch. This arrangement provides club picnics within the larger picnic and facilitates service.

The dance in the evening is open to the public and brings out one of the largest crowds of the year. The popular Merrymakers have been secured again by the committee and following the final ball game the fiddles will be tuned up ready to take off.

IN MEMORIAM

Bluery — In loving memory of John Bluery who passed away May 28, 1948.
His memory is as dear today,
As in the hour he passed away.
Sadly missed by his wife and daughter.

Boyd — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, G. Herbert Boyd, who passed away June 6, 1949.
In the garden of memory, we meet every day.
Always remembered by his wife and family.

King—In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. Angus J. King, who passed away so suddenly June 4, 1949.
Sadly missed and ever remembered by the family.

King—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mary E. King, who passed away suddenly on June 4, 1949.
We often sit and wonder,
What you would think and say;
If you only knew the changes,
Since you were called away.
Looking back with love and kindness,
Along the road we trod;
We treasure the years we had with you,
And leave the rest with God.
Sadly missed by son, Elmer, Madeline, and granddaughters, Marion Norma, Carol and Linda Marie.

McGhee—In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Elizabeth McGhee, who passed away June 2, 1947.
Gone, dear Mother, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face;
But you left us to remember,
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home was once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still;
But death has left a loneliness,
The world can never fill.
Sadly missed by sons and daughters.

Prosser — In loving memory of our dear mother, Joanna Isabel Prosser, who passed away June 1, 1940.
For her, life more abundant;
For us, a guiding star.
Ever missed by Ariel, Muriel, Betty, Gladys, Mildred and Earl.

Richardson — A tribute of love and remembrance for a beloved husband and father, Jonathan Richardson, who passed away June 3, 1949.
He is gone but not forgotten,
But as dawns another year;
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of darkness still come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed;
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.
Ever remembered by wife and family.

Walker — In loving memory of Byron Walker who passed away in Toronto, May 30, 1944.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
Lovingly remembered by son, Bruce and family.
MISC.—

Aurora high school Students exibit work

Aurora district high school held its annual exhibit of industrial crafts and home economics Friday night in the school auditorium. "Madame Irene's Dress Shop", a short skit, proved a clever way of presenting the costumes made by the students to an audience of proud parents, friends and members of the school board.

Miss Grace Griffin, teacher of home economics, and R. J. Moddle, instructor in shop work, are to be congratulated on the high standard of workmanship and originality shown. Miss Griffin encourages the girls to design and choose their own fabrics and color combinations. Of the 28 girls who modelled the frocks they had made, four designed the dresses they wore.

Nora Knowles chose apple green flannel and originated her costume with a high neck line and full skirt, gracefully gathered to a long tight bodice. Norma Smith, who has had only two years instruction in dressmaking, made a cinnamon gabardine suit. Her cleverly inverted pleats in the back of the coat added a smart touch. Jean MacDonald showed excellent color sense and good taste for her house coat in the combination of bright green and yellow. Juno Hollinshead expressed an appreciation for smart simplicity in planning her blue moire dress.

The display of industrial crafts was held in the shop with Mr. Moddle explaining the various projects. The articles were numerous in variety, ranging from aluminum trays etched in design or monorammed, to a stunning coffee table made of oak and finished in a black and white limed finish.

Later the girls served tea, delicious sandwiches and small cakes all made by members of the home economics class. The mauve and pink sweetpeas that centred the tea table were also arranged by the students.

Famous Doctors say . . .

There is no better way to stimulate blood circulation and remove impurities from the body than that of the "mineral fume bath". The first health baths introduced in New York City were by two doctors, Miller and Wood, both very successful and prominent men.

Dr. W. Girard, B.A. Ph.D., who is an instructor in anatomy, physiology, pathology and massage, also a surgeon for many years, is regarded as the father of modern electrotherapy — and states "Although physical therapy has made enormous strides in the past 25 years, there is still much to be done to educate the general public of its great worth—IF—they will enjoy 'radiant health'."

We could quote many famous and well known doctors — but space will not permit. You have the Fenn-Dale Health Resort at your door. We offer you hydrotherapy, electrotherapy, massage—everything you need for health.

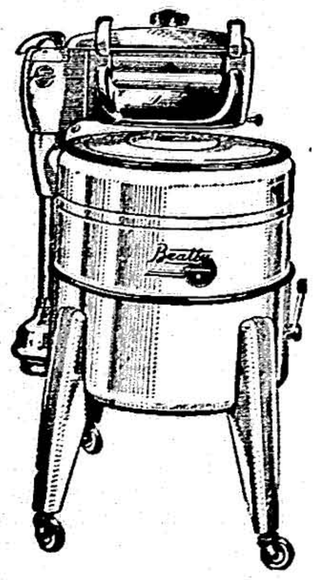

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. Come in—read for yourself our files and be convinced.

IT'S A Woman's World

BY CAROLINE ION

The news that the flood waters of the Red and Assiniboine Rivers are receding daily has been welcomed everywhere. At last there has been an ending to that steady onslaught of destruction and havoc. No longer does each hour bring increasing dangers and overwhelming problems. The first steps in the enormous task of rehabilitation can be taken. What a job that will be.

That these Canadian families are willing to attempt this job deserves our warmest support. It has been the courage and steadfast co-operation of the Manitoba people in their fight against the relentless waters which has been the bright spot in an otherwise black situation. Think what the damage would have been if they had thrown up their hands in despair and said, "We can't do anything". But, instead of that, we know of the mobilization of volunteer workers, the men and women, high school boys and girls who worked endless hours on the sand bag reenforecments; those who staffed food kitchens; those who helped to evacuate the children and the old people. Their stories are familiar to all of us. We in our safety on the sidelines share a warm glow of pride that the dignity of the human being has withstood such an ordeal and has triumphed.

In Newmarket, as elsewhere in Canada, this pride in our fellow countrymen has not taken the form of a pat on the back and a casual "Well done, old boy". No. From Newmarket is emerging concrete evidence of the people's feeling. From all sources have come offers of help. Organizations which had practically closed their activities for the season have come up with plans to raise funds. Individuals have not waited to be canvassed, but have sent in their donations. The response has been better than anyone in the beginning had thought possible.

Nearing Completion

The canvass is nearing completion and like the other projects it shows that the volunteer canvassers have met with a warm reception at the homes in Newmarket. Members from the Women's Institute, under the direction of Mrs. T. A. Mitchell, the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion under Mrs. Robert Bunn, the Catholic Women's League under Mrs. Henry Moore, the Business and Professional Women's club under Mrs. Mervyn Peever and the Home and School Association under Mrs. Ted Mitchell have given their time to conduct a house-to-house canvass in town.

When these groups were approached regarding their share in this effort there was no questioning the necessity, no hesitancy, but rather, the finest spirit of co-operation. Going out to the various sections of Newmarket these volunteer helpers have met with the same response from their fellow citizens and have been encouraged in their efforts. Newmarket once again has cause to be proud of its women and their organizations.

If by accident anyone has not been contacted for their contribution, donations may be left at any of the banks in town. No amount is too small for it is from the accumulation of these individual contributions that the bulk of the monies needed in the rehabilitation of Manitoba families must come. Not infrequently, it means a far greater sacrifice for someone to make a small donation from his limited funds than it does for a wealthy person to write a cheque for a substantial amount.

Shut-In Sunday

This Sunday, June 4, is known as Shut-In Sunday and has been set aside as a day on which everyone should try to do something for those confined to their homes or in hospitals. Just the sending of a card, some fruit or flowers to an invalid seems a small thing in itself, but it is important to them.

For the many veterans at Sunnybrook and the other military hospitals, one day must be much the same as another as the years pass by and they continue their hospitalization.

There are many of the boys at these hospitals whose families live at a distance which makes frequent visiting impossible. They would welcome your interest. Perhaps on this Sunday or on any of the lovely summer days which will be following we could think to call at these hospitals and take some of the up-patients for a car drive.

It is only when one loses his health that the great gift is fully appreciated. In the busy hustle of everyday living we have a tendency to forget our shut-in friends so perhaps June 4 will serve its purpose if it makes us more thoughtful of them.

Mrs. Elton Armstrong Re-elected president 170 at district W.I.

With an attendance of 170 women, the Belhaven Women's Institute was hostess for the 43rd district annual meeting of the Women's Institute. The president, Mrs. Elton Armstrong, presided.

Following the opening exercises, the reports of the secretary-treasurer were read. Mr. King, reeve of North Gwillimbury, welcomed the ladies and was replied to by Mrs. Lloyd Pollock.

The reports of the standing committees were given by the convenors: agriculture and Canadian industries, Mrs. Murray Stokes; home economics and health, Mrs. Fred Proctor; historical research and current events, Mrs. Roy Cronsberry; community activities and public relations, Mrs. J. L. Smith; citizenship and education, Mrs. Osler.

Following the luncheon period, the meeting opened with the president's address. Mrs. Armstrong stressed the fact that women should accept more responsibility as members of a community and also in our country, and that they should keep up to date with current events.

Mrs. Meek of the Pefferlaw Women's Institute gave an interesting apron demonstration showing various patterns that could be made with very little material, and would prove most enjoyable as gifts, for bazaars, etc.

Music during the day was supplied by the Belhaven school choir, winners of the York county shield at the festival. They were directed by Mrs. Cowieson and assisted by their teacher, Mrs. Glover. In the afternoon, Mrs. Stiver, Mount Albert, sang two numbers.

With Mrs. A. E. Kennedy presiding, the election of officers was held and resulted as follows: hon. pres., Mrs. W. R. Steeper, Mount Albert, Mrs. J. E. Baines, Keswick; pres., Mrs. Elton Armstrong, Armitage; vice pres., Mrs. Lloyd Pollock, Keswick, Mrs. A. Sedore, Queensville; sec.-treas., Mrs. B. Sinclair, Mount Albert; federation rep., Mrs. W. Anderson, Belhaven; alternate fed. rep., Mrs. G. Pearson, Queensville; district director, Mrs. Elton Armstrong, Armitage; alternate director, Mrs. B. Sinclair, Mount Albert;

Standing committees: citizenship and education: Mrs. Osler, R. R. 1, Newmarket; agriculture and Canadian industries, Mrs. Murray Stokes, Mount Albert; community activities and public relations, Mrs. J. L. Smith, Queensville; historical research, Mrs. Roy Cronsberry, Pefferlaw; home economics and health, Mrs. Fred Proctor, Newmarket; resolutions, Mrs. Roy Pollock, Keswick; federation of agriculture, Mrs. R. G. Lewis, Newmarket.

A very interesting meeting of Lakeside branch was held on May 22 at the home of Mrs. Gordon Carr at which Mrs. Cecil Corps was guest speaker. Mrs. Les Morton, president, was in the chair. The roll call, "How to be a Good Neighbor," brought forth many suggestions. Being friendly and helpful when needed and following the Golden Rule were the predominant ideas expressed. Considerable business was transacted and it was decided to canvass again for the Salvation Army during June. The committee in charge of arrangements for the play, "A Ready-Made Family," which the Scout and Cub Mothers presented, reported that the proceeds were $102.05.

Mrs. Corps' talk was on "Friendship," true, sincere friendship in all spheres of life. She spoke of the great need of it in our homes, communities, nations and the world. Mrs. Morton thanked her for a most inspirational talk.

After adjournment of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed over a delicious lunch.

The Vandorf branch regular meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Graham Tuesday, May 16. The roll call was well answered by bringing a friend and introducing her. The topic was on publicity. We were very sorry that owing to illness, Mr. J. A. Meyer, editor of the Newmarket Era and Express, was not able to be with us. However we were very fortunate in having Mrs. Walter Graham give her travelogue of the trip to Banff, Alta., and other noted places along the way. She also showed very interesting pictures.

The business consisted of final arrangements for the catering to the Conservation and Wild Life Club. A donation was also made to the Manitoba Relief Fund. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. A. Pattenden, Mrs. George Preston and Mrs. Grant Morley.

Haskett's HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT

Newmarket Sports Editor

Lake Simcoe off and running last week. Ladies break the seal on their schedule this week. Town League executive meeting again this week to put its house in order.

Early dispatches from the Simcoe circuit brought surprises. Mounties absorbed a licking from Willow Beach, but don't take it too seriously just yet. Teams are just in the warm-ups. Most have had few practices.

Ken "Red" Mitchell, perennial Mount Albert hurler, got a big ovation when he came in the fourth to attempt to halt the rising Willow Beach tide. Willow Beach made the reception unanimous by belting a few of Mitch's pitches. Mitch came in cold at that, his first winging of the season.

Skipper Courtney, "Peaches" VanZant and Orval Hisey and the ladies pry the lid off at home tonight to provide the main local action. Visitors are Valleys. In the town league, some teams are experiencing difficulty filling out the roster. Davis had five for practice, town team six. Optimists are reported short if factories snatch their men. No direct communication from the Combines, that's Dixon's, Bender's, Sangamo, Price, Siegel. May have the answer by holding teams to six and splitting the Combines among the shorts. Going three nights a week would give each team a game a week.

After wrestling for the last week on the North York League schedule, a seven-team loop has been formed. Making a late start, Aurora was fired right into the thick of it in a large way with two away and one at home. Way we size it up, Aurora may have just the team to win the Joe Spillette silverware. "Peaches" VanZant coach, Joint McComb and Bill VanZant for pitching, Tod Mosier for first and added strength if Normie Legge moves southward for his skipping over the outer pasture. Home nights for the Aurorans is Tuesday.

Die hard hockey men had to wait a long time but finally after many delays, had their look at the mythical all-star team of the Trolley circuit. Surprised that Bradford snatched the glory of first team? Spitfires had one on number one and four on No. two team. Possibly they feel like the Leafs a few years back. Won the championship but didn't show on the all-star team. Bill Boychoff compiled the greatest point total of 41, with Joe Peat, our hard-rock defenseman, reported playing his last season, a close second with 39.

And the horse told me dept.: at least, we could have found it out from the horse as soon. Nary a word, a smile or thankee as we got the hot-foot from the arena commish and was busted out of one of those non-paying jobs. That's tough. Might have let a guy know—we found out by accident. Came a day or two early for fireworks so we'll splash in with our own 24th May atmosphere—a few howcomes and whys we've had knocking around.

Arena is just through first winter or half-winter of operation. How about financial picture on the barrel-head so we can all see how goes the battle? Was community centre idea carried out? Schools had ample skating and hockey time. Free? If not, who paid? How come town league teams were treated differently than others? Will they get the ice team necessary to conduct a league this coming winter? How come bugle band didn't get night asked for at arena? Was the price too high? Personally, we think that after 40 guys came down from buglers and drummers to hoist sand when that job was on that the commish could have done better. Does the commission truly represent all the organizations having a hand in putting the job over? Are the volunteers represented?

There's little doubt from the remarks heard on opening night the volunteers did a marvellous job, and they did it because they wanted boys and girls of town, hockey teams, figure skaters, and skaters and such like to have a full winter of their favorite pastime. More and more, as new artificial ice plants spring up in the district, we're going to have to depend on local teams and organizations for their dough. Latter is essential to keep wheels turning but we must promote goodwill of the community to carry out community centre idea latter more necessary than ever with a floor going in and many summer uses possible. Leave this thought with you—your hash man will keep in there pitching for the boys and girls of town, town leagues, local hockey teams and the greatest use possible of the arena by town citizens.

And that, kiddies, has been my idea all along.

Floodlights, oh floodlights, where have you done disappeared to? Can't let these slide a moment longer—must get some action agoing? Here it is, first of June. Before you know it, another year will have slipped by. Now is the time to get on with job. Town clerk Wes Brooks reports Etobicoke's lights, just installed, cost $4,200. That's for softball of course. Could lay something along that line here and make it possible to add for the hardballers.

Ray Smith, ye prop of Newmarket Sports and Cycle, buzzes in with the info that he has three or four trophies to put up for boys' ball. Hang on to that man. Those trophy donators are hard to lasso. Congrats to Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith. It's a boy. Should be a Smith on the bantams' class of '60. The "old man" will be about ready at that stage to call it quits and take up golf seriously with Hack Cain.

Troubles, everybody has troubles. Reg Ball and George Watt hope to raise a few greenbacks to carry on the junior ladies' softball team. Tickets out on a radio soon. Have uniforms for use, courtesy Frank Courtney of senior gals. Let's give those two hard-working gentlemen a helping hand when tickets come around. Don't forget Schomberg, June 7. Turk Broda's all-stars, hockey greats versus Schomberg. Should be a night to remember. Good cause—Flood Victims Fund.

'Berg takes Lansing 3-2 In North York League

In a thrilling game, Schomberg scratched out a 3-2 win Thursday over Lansing as the North York Softball League season came to life. The visitors had a fast turnover in the first frame, chasing two runs across the platter for an early lead. From there on, Ken. Ellison on he Schomberg hill had the vistors eating out of his hand.

Walt. Thompson crossed the plate in the fifth to start Schomberg on the way. In the sixth, Thompson socked a clean double to chase Doug. Marchant and Don. Raney home with the tying and winning runs. The visitors made a bid in the eighth for the tying run. Ken. Ellison, pitching at a midseason clip, was having none of this and kept them from further scoring.

1 run costs opener

Newmarket and Midland ladies opened up Monday at Midland with 27 runs crossing the platter. Midland got 14, our gals 13.

At the fourth, Newmarket had a 12-9 lead. Midland cut the margin with a run in its sixth, but our gals got it back when Mary Ellen McInnis poked out a solid four-baser to give the Courtney nine a three-run margin, 13-10, and three batters to put away.

A pair of errors, a bunt dropped safely and a pair of singles by the Midlanders and four runs were over and the game gone.

Newmarket's big frame was the fourth when they stocked up with six runs. Midland had its big frame in the second with five runs. Both Frank Courtney, who handled the team in the absence of Coach VanZant, and Midland went along with rookie pitching, Jackie Moore for the locals and Joyce Mosley for the Georgians.

All our gals had at least one hit with Lois Manning batting three for four, Edna McGrath and Arlene Moore socking out two each. Mary Charters, a new find, handled her work in right field well and was credited with one safety. Mary hails from Fredericton, N.B., and is a southpaw—should prove an asset.

Newmarket: Mona Dean c, Jacqueline Moore p, Edna McGrath 1b, Phil. McInnis 2b, Lois Blight ss, Arlene Moore 3b, Lois Manning, Mary Ellen McInnis, Mary Charters, outfield.

Six teams sure entries In Mt. Albert sports day

There is little doubt, from early indications, that June 3, Mount Albert's annual Sports Day, is going to provide the fans with some of the hottest softball competition in years. Six teams are assured, Horace Pearson reports, and there is a distinct possibility the entry list may swell to eight before the week is out. Four teams have already filed their application: Queensville, Mount Albert, Zephyr and Lansing, and two more are on the way. Softball tournament starts at 2 p.m. sharp.

In the school softball tournament, which is a part of the sports day, Newmarket will be represented by Stuart Scott.

Just in Passing

By HOWARD MORTON

Well the fishing trip is over for another year. Doc, Howie and I left for Lake Nipissing last Thursday noon, and believe it or not, we had our limit by bedtime that night.

Greatest thrill last week was to see Howie — he was seven on the 20th—with a two-pound pickerel on the line. The first fish he ever caught and I was sure proud to be there when it happened. Just like being a kid all over again. Hope I'm there when he shoots his first buck.

Mount Albert fell from the seats of the mighty when Willow Beach gave them a real shellacking in the Lake Simcoe League opener. Perhaps if the champs had been a little more inclined to train younger players they would not have ended up like the "one horse shay." But then they might not have been champs for so long either, in case you think that is so important. Unless they get a shot in the arm or monkey glands it's doubtful if they make the play-offs on their showing and potential strength.

Thanks a lot for the plug, Abner (just to prove that I do read "Down the Centre"). Where do you get that "rotund" stuff? I'm just pleasingly plump. And by the way—wouldn't hurt a bit to practice a few table pushbacks yourself. It may be later than you think.

Sure wish all those fellows with the full choked shot-guns and keen eyes would join us at the Whitchurch Gun Club any Wednesday evening at 7. If we can just get enough gunners to build up the participating membership we will soon be ready for inter-club competition.

And since this is really a sporting pot-pourri today I will end with the greatest competition of all. Trying to stretch available dollars to cover the 1950 taxes. Boy, will that be a struggle; but I guess we better practice this year because by the indications the chips will sure be down in 1951. The best captain I ever had used to say, "Morton, these little problems are sent to try us and we must meet them with a certain amount of Christian fortitude." Guess he had something at that.

Ladies play at home on Thursdays, open tonight

Newmarket Ladies will again stage their home games on Thursday nights at the Stuart Scott diamond, according to the Barrie and District Softball League schedule, out this week. Every Thursday evening should catch them in action locally while one Monday contest has been booked. Tonight they will open the season with Valleys, the opposition. Five teams are entered this season: two from Barrie, Valleys and Stransman, Midland, and the new entry, Orillia.

June 1, Valley at Newmarket; June 7, Newmarket at Valley; June 8, Stransman at Newmarket; June 14, Newmarket at Stransman; June 15, Orillia at Newmarket June 19, Valley at Newmarket; June 22, Newmarket at Orillia;

June 26, Newmarket at Midland; June 29, Midland at Newmarket; July 12, Newmarket at Valley; July 13, Stransman at Newmarket; July 19, Newmarket at Stransman; July 20, Orillia at Newmarket; July 27, Newmarket at Orillia; Aug. 3, Midland at Newmarket.

Newmarket, Keswick gals Split exhibition games

Newmarket and Keswick junior ladies' softball teams split a home and home exhibition series over the past week. At Keswick Thursday, Newmarket was turned back 18-15. The locals had their revenge Tuesday at the S.S. diamond 26-8. Marlene Martin and Darlene Stuffles shared the pitching duties in win at home.

Reg Ball and Geo. Watt, coworkers on the project to bring junior ladies' ball into the sport picture, will represent Newmarket at the Lake Simcoe junior ladies' softball league meeting to be held at Keswick on June 1. Four teams are already entered, Newmarket, Keswick, Sutton and Maple Hill. Schedule will be drawn up at the meeting.

TOWN LEAGUE JUNE 7

President Mickey Smith says the Town and Specialty will open the Town League next Wednesday, June 7. Starting time 7 p.m.

All those interested in the Town League Softball teams are requested by President Mickey Smith to be at the council chambers at 7.15 p.m., Friday, June 2. Executive members who represent each team in the league are asked to make a special effort to be present so that a schedule can be drawn up.

PHILS. LEAD IN P.S. LOOP

Phils made merry with a pair of wins in the public school league last week. They massacred the Dodgers 27-12, all the Phillies hitting at the expense of Bob Forhan and Glen Keffer. Fred Bennitz, Phils' winning chucker, helped his cause with a four baser.

Phils' other win was a gift. Giants failed to show with enough man-power Saturday afternoon to carry on.

The Dodgers got a little of their own back in the other tilt of the week, pouncing on the Cards 19-12. Bill Mair's pitches were laced far and wide and his support wilted badly afield. Bob Forhan and Glen Keffer split the hurling duties for the winning Dodgers.

Frank Hollingsworth, in charge of the league, expects to complete the first half of the schedule this week, and will likely switch over to Saturday afternoon doubleheaders for the second half. There's still a need for some coaching help with the teams. If interested call Frank at No. 2.

Open bowling season June 6 with dinner

The ladies' lawn bowling club is opening the season officially by entertaining the members of the ladies' and men's clubs to a dinner at the clubhouse on Tuesday, June 6, at 6.30 p.m. sharp, followed by a social game of bowls.

All members wishing to bowl will please phone Mrs. J. Macnab, 210, or Mr. A. Murdison, 726, before 5 p.m., on Monday, June 5, so that the draw for games may be made and bowling can follow dinner without the usual delay.

HILL OUT OF LEAGUE

North York Softball League President Fred Morris of Langstaff reports Richmond Hill has dropped out of competition. The Hill crew under Charlie Ryan were scheduled to play at home with Aurora Monday but phoned late in the day to advise that they were finished. Three reasons are given for the withdrawal: lack of players, financial backing and a good diamond.

Free class attendance, Membership up in tennis

"Very encouraging response," says Keith Davis of the number of juniors taking tennis lessons on Saturday morning. There's still room for more. The classes run at the local courts from 9.30 a.m. to 10.30 a.m. on Saturday mornings. Keith is also conducting tennis instruction classes at the Aurora courts. Starting time there is 10.45 a.m. to 11.45 a.m. on Saturday mornings.

Memberships in all classes, junior, intermediate and senior at the Newmarket Tennis club is on the up-swing. President Dr. John Dales hopes to see all members signed on and dues paid by June 1. Report is that the courts were never in better condition.

'49 champs 'Beached' In Simcoe opener

Dot Menar led Willow Beach to a 16-2 win over Mount Albert to get the Simcoe league in motion. Cec. McNeill whiffed 15 Mounties and stopped them cold at seven hits. McNeill and his battery mate, Ted Anderson, swiped out three base hits each. Bob Winch homered and Don Cameron splashed with two doubles.

Joe Case, Elmer Paisley and Lorne Rutledge bunched hits for first Mount run. Harold Watts hit the other a home run smash. Lorne Rutledge went four frames before Ken. Mitchell replaced him.

Pine Orchard queered Zephyr's opener at home 7-2. Ted Tidman went the route for the winners, besting Ron. Kester. Lorne Shropshire got four for four. Bill Dike kept pace with two solid socks. Clark Arnold receiving and Ches. Lunney short-stopping sparked the Blues afield and got in some healthy licks at the plate.

Queensville's young team did well in their home display, bunched seven runs in the fifth to give Hope a scare before conceding defeat 11-8. Elton Stickwood was pushed off the Hope mound in the barrage. Veteran Lon. Ganton squelched the fire. Three hitters for Hope were Harold Farr, Al. Wilson and Ned Tansley. Bill Burkholder hit a home run, Bob English and Jack Perry belted three safeties for the losers. Bruce Pegg and Bob English shared the Queensville pitching. Gord. Cook took the fielding spotlight with a one-handed grab.

Vandorf had its opener spoiled as Keswick tied the can on 18-0. Ken. Hodgins, Ken. Davie, Bob Pollock and Tom Hare powdered the apple high, wide and handsome. Al. Hodgins poked out a three-run homer.

Lorne Rutledge went four, Ken. Mitchell three, as Mount Albert put its first win across the board at Queensville Tuesday, 6-4. Harold Watts hit his second homer, Kelly Case his first. Charlie Green and Ross Draper also zoomed in the hit department. Bill Burkholder had the Queensville hit parade. Bruce Pegg pitched for Queensville.

Bill Hibbitt is umpire chief in the north and Lefty Bob Peters in the south. Next week's run goes this way:

June 1, Willow Beach at Vandorf; June 2, Queensville at Pine Orchard; June 2, Hope at Keswick; June 5, Willow Beach at Zephyr; June 5, Mount Albert at Vandorf; June 6, Keswick at Queensville; June 7, Pine Orchard at Mount Albert.

Aurora still has it!

Bill VanZant was on the beam Tuesday evening as Aurora opened its defence of the North York title. Mixing a sizzling fast ball and the odd slow teaser, Bill set down Thistletown with five hits, three of the bunt variety, and Aurora had little or no trouble recording a 17-0 triumph. Aurora was waving mighty potent sticks and Thistletown hurlers, Bill Shaw and Wally Shelley, felt the weight of them as 15 base hits rocketed into the May sunshine. The hits were led by the keystone combination of "Joint" McComb at second and Ron. Simmons at short who both punched out three bingles. McComb's extra base dig was a climbing home run smash, Simmons doubled and tripled. Vic Maharg at third, Tod Mosier receiving and Bruce McMillan centrefielding helped to break the Thistletown bank with two hits each.

Afield Aurora went about its manoeuvres with a hustle and bustle that could mean — if it continues—retention of the Joe Spillette trophy.

Aurora: Tod Mosier c, Bill VanZant p, Earl MacDonald 1b, "Joint" McComb 2b, Ron. Simmons ss, Vic Maharg 3b, "Red" Castles, Hal. Stepehnson, Bruce McMillan, "Wiff" White, Andy O'Neill, outfield, Chas. VanZant, coach, umpires, Chas. Proctor and Len. Holman.

TOWN TEAM PRACTISED

Town team will hold a practice at the S.S. grounds tonight at 7 p.m., reports Cec. Andrews. The team has held two sessions and has had a fairly good turn out. Monday night, they won an exhibition game with the Office Specialty 4-3. Town roster includes Ivan Gibson, Alvin McKnight, Karl Ball, Paul Morton, Jack Balsdon, Cyril Keats, Ted Taylor, Ross Jones, Ron. Coveney, Jim Hugo. More players are needed. Anyone not working in the factories, Bell Telephone or a member of the Optimist Club will be welcome.

FLOODLIGHT MEETING

Chairman Chas. VanZant is calling the floodlight committee to attention Friday evening at 7 in the council chambers. All interested in the project are asked to be on hand as the matter has to be pushed at once if lights are to go in this year.

Aurora at home Tuesday In North York softball

Tuesday will be home nights for the Aurora softball team. After early indications that Aurora wouldn't be represented in the North York Softball League, plans are all ready to get going this week. Charlie VanZant, hard-working softball man from Newmarket, has been asked to accept the job of coach. Here's the Aurora schedule:

June 6, Schomberg at Aurora; June 8, Aurora at Woodbridge; June 13, Richmond Hill at Aurora; June 15, Aurora at Thistletown; June 20, Langstaff at Aurora; June 22, Aurora at Schomberg; June 27, Lansing at Aurora; June 29, Aurora at Langstaff; July 3, Aurora at Richmond Hill; July 4, Woodbridge at Aurora.

July 6, Langstaff at Aurora; July 11, Schomberg at Aurora; July 13, Aurora at Woodbridge; July 18, Woodbridge at Aurora; July 20, Aurora at Schomberg; Aug. 1, Thistletown at Aurora; Aug. 3, Aurora at Thistletown; Aug. 8, Richmond Hill at Aurora; Aug. 10, Aurora at Langstaff.

PLACES SECOND

Faye Rusnell, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken. Rusnell, Newmarket, won riding honors at the Richmond Hill Fair last week. Miss Rusnell placed second in the saddle horse class in the May 24th events. She rode Aghvarin owned by Mrs. A. H. Robinson, Newmarket. Faye Rusnell was the youngest rider among 12 in the saddle horse class.

DOWN THE CENTRE BY AB HULSE

A little bit of everything

Personality parade: Art Kneeshaw, well known hockey executive and Bradford sportsman, has been elected president of Bradford Lions club, which will accent the positive in the club's sports' activities. Barney Walmsley, classy centre man of the Collingwood junior "C" champs, has been chosen by his teammates as the most valuable player on the club. A tie vote with goalie Bruce Hook necessitated a fourth vote. Incidentally, the entire Collingwood hockey club has turned to baseball in the junior "B" series and will be grouped in the North Simcoe league with another junior club from Creemore, Barrie Flyers and the rest intermediate.

In the same circuit performing for Orillia intermediates is husky Ken Broughton, who has played minor ball for both Aurora and his native Newmarket. Still on the diamond sport, we note that Gerry Aitcheson, young Aurora hurler who played junior in Toronto last season, is tossing for Mayfairs of the West Toronto league, and that Don Couch, Stouffville puck-chaser, is with Peter Pan juniors of the North Toronto loop.

Chuck Southwood, who played goal for Aurora juniors in laprising the defending champs from Victoria Square, Bradford, Elgin Mills, Claremont, and Stouffville. Jim Landon is maecrosse a few years ago, along with brother Freddie Southwood, Bill Patrick, Aurora hockeyist, and Howie Patrick, is turning out with Bradford lacrosse team. Perry Standeaven, Harold Gwyn, Sandy Neal and Scotty Johnston, who were with Newmarket last season, are also out with the Simcoe County team. The original grouping included Huntsville, Gravenhurst, Midland, Woodbridge, Brooklin, etc., which presents considerable travelling problems. Nick Burnside and Ernie James are trying to arrange for a more suitable set up.

Sam Jarvis, better known for his exploits as a rider, owner, and trainer of hunters, has been prepping Golden Gate, a steeplechaser owned by Mrs. Don Rogers of Aurora. On the 24th, in a wild race which saw ten riders start and only four finish, Golden Gate came home in front to the nifty tune of $60.35. Joe Louis, heavyweight king, was in Collingwood today with Dailey Brothers circus. The advertised appearance of the celebrated "Brown Bomber" was creating quite a furor when we were up that way recently.

Thursday night, starting tonight will see Newmarket Ladies defending their laurels against the northerners. Too bad Aurora Harts didn't join the big circuit, but the travelling problem was too much. However, Ralph Tucker has a swell circuit lined up comtroeing the "Diamond H" gals with Agnes Wesner as coach. Holdovers from the '49 squad include Lucille Case, Gwen Myke, Vanetta Masten, Barbara Myke, Betty Holman, Ruth Payne, Agnes Werner, Shirley Saigle.

Olive Payne and Kay and Mary Ford, who were with Stouffville last year, have been added to the squad along with a couple of pitchers with Toronto experience as well as one or two others. Aurora will be well represented in ladies' softball this summer and the team will tee-off next week. An exhibition tilt is carded for tonight at Aurora town park.

The Newmarket accent has been added to the Aurora softball club of the North York circuit with Joint McComb, Chuck VanZant, Toddy Mosier, Normie Legge and Bill VanZant added to start with. On the 24th, a hastily assembled squad was shaded 4-3 by Lansing, while on Monday the Aurora-Newmarket combines squelched the new entry from Thistletown 16-0. Bill VanZant pitched a masterful game and it looks as if the club will be the one to beat for the honors in '50.

Bradford arena is reported to have been sold and it's said there'll be a new artificial ice plant in celerytown next winter. About a third of the money needed is already reported in the kitty.

With grim memories of a hasty evacuation from flooded St. Vital fresh in their minds, these three children are pre-occupied by the waters of Lake Winnipeg. They have been given shelter at Winnipeg Beach, 50 miles away from their flooded homes. The children are Randa Taylor, 3, Gail Forbes, 10 months, and Geraldine Taylor, 6. It is to help these children and thousands like them whose homes have been flooded, that the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund has been organized.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL — If you're a busy housewife — and these spring days seem to be times of great activity around the house — you're sure to appreciate the time-saving qualities of Jell-O. Tempting, tangy desserts can be whipped up in a matter of minutes with JELL-O JELLY POWDERS — and don't think the family won't appreciate the gay and colourful salads that can be quickly and easily prepared, too. The seven exciting "locked-in" flavours make Jell-O one of the most versatile products on the market. Yet you can enjoy Jell-O for less than 2c a serving.

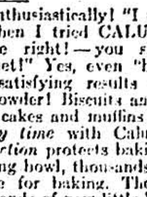

Do You Know that tea once cost $15 a pound and was described as a cure for almost anything? Now tea costs less than a cent a cup (including milk and sugar)...and we know that, though it won't cure anything—it's one of the most refreshing drinks we can treat ourselves to! From a beverage that could be afforded only by the wealthy...it has become a favourite, economical drink in thousands of homes all over the world. Canadians drink over 22 million cups a day, and those that want a truly good cup of tea drink RED ROSE TEA. Try it today at tea-time and I'm sure you'll make it a mealtime favourite! For Red Rose Tea is good tea! Economical, too! — for there has been no increase in price of Red Rose Tea! And remember that Red Rose Coffee is as good as Red Rose Tea.

"I Love Baking," a reader writes enthusiastically! "I used to find it a real chore — and then I tried CALUMET BAKING POWDER! You're right! — you simply can't go wrong with Calumet!" Yes, even "beginning" cooks enjoy successful, satisfying results when they use Calumet Baking Powder! Biscuits and shortcakes are light and tender — cakes and muffins are feather-light and delicious every time with Calumet! You see, Calumet's double action protects baking from start to finish! In the mixing bowl, thousands of tiny bubbles are formed to prepare the mixture for baking. The second action takes place in the oven, where thousands of new little bubbles continue raising the mixture to feathery, tender perfection. So you have help all along the way when you use Calumet. No wonder thousands of women say it's the "no-failure" way to bake!

"Something Blue" and gold and white belongs in every bride's kitchen . . . it's the brilliant new 1950 Frigidaire De Luxe Cold-Wall Refrigerator! Nothing else can equal it ... shining white and gold, with its smart Ice-Blue interior trim. Has new adjustable and sliding aluminum shelves, extra-deep porcelain Hydrators that can be stacked, and many other wonders I know will make it a joy for any homemaker. And this new FRIGIDAIRE De Luxe Cold-Wall is only one of four new models in sizes and prices for every home. Take my advice and see them now at a store which displays the Frigidaire Dealer sign — the emblem of the refrigerator made only by General Motors.

Salads With Lots Of Appetite Appeal have one thing in common. Whether the salad is served tossed and green in a wooden bowl . . . or colourfully arranged in fruit dishes — a really good dressing makes a world of difference. And when it's made with Heinz White, Malt or Cider Vinegars — it's bound to be good! It's wise "salad insurance" to make your dressings with the best vinegar you can buy — just as you make your salads with good fruits and vegetables. That's why I urge you to ask for HEINZ VINEGARS—aged and mellowed in wood! ... Heinz White Vinegar — marvelous for light salads and smooth, boiled dressings... Heinz Malt Vinegar — delicious for heartier salads!

Such Good News! . . . your favourite corn starch in a brand new package that's easy to open and close! It's such a pleasure now to open a package of DURHAM CORN STARCH! No need to pry it open with a knife and make a mess. Just break the seal and inside you'll find Durham Corn Starch neatly protected in a paper bag. Then, when you've finished using as much as you need at the time, replace the top. It fits snugly — keeps out every last particle of dust and prevents any starch from spilling out. You'll be delighted with how much easier it is to make pies 'n' puddings with Durham in its new package. And you'll be thrilled with the recipes on the package. Try a Durham Corn Starch Lemon Pie soon! ... the best you've ever tasted and so economical, too!

That First Salary Cheque is a real thrill for teenagers who've found themselves Summer jobs. And they'll be thrilled to see how much more useful their money becomes when they've put a part of their salary in a Savings Account at the BANK OF MONTREAL! They'll be able to buy for themselves those bigger things they've been wanting so much. So next time you visit your B of M . . . take your "salaried" teensters along with you. They'll be sure of a friendly welcome at "My Bank" and they'll enjoy having a B of M account of their very own.

Planning That Shower For The Bride-To-Be is almost as much fun as having it. One thing above all that you'll enjoy doing is baking this wonderful Marshmallow Gold Cake — made extra tender, extra delicious with the finest of cake flours — SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR! . . .

MARSHMALLOW GOLD CAKE

(Standard 3 egg-yolk cake)

2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2 tsps. Calumet Baking Powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/3 cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
3 egg yolks, beaten until very thick and lemon-coloured
3/4 cup milk
1 tsp. vanilla, or 1/2 tsp. orange extract

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add flavouring and beat thoroughly. Bake in two greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Frost with a lemon marshmallow frosting.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

THEY DO THEIR BIT

Whenever I think of the Minstrel Show—
And that's pretty often, if you must know—
The songs keep going through my head,
Whether I'm working or in my bed,
"Dear Hearts and Gentle People" I know,
Whose friendship will follow wherever I go,
And many another whose rhyme and tune
Are bright as the Carolina Moon.
But I think that the song in Thursday's show—
The one that set people's hearts aglow—
Was the one which made us realize
What Murray put before our eyes
When with a zeal more than before
He bade the "river stay way from my door".
For that's a prayer that rises high
From those to whom the flood drew nigh.
For songs pull heart strings hidden, sweet,
When they, with need or sorrow meet.
I think, when Murray Huntley sang,
Red River's angry roaring rang
And made us feel that we must give
Or forfeit our own right to live—
To live in comfort, warm and dry,
Nor forced by angry floods to fly.
I'd like to say a word or two
About some numbers that were new:
For one, that cute duet that came
With Ken Johns and a wondrous dame
Whose costume was a masterpiece
That Shaparelli might release.
Their bunch of cocoanuts I'm sure
Would be for fits of blues a cure.
Be sure that next year, we will be
Waiting, you two, to hear and see!
Ang West's "cousin" from the west
Appeared at Alex Eves' request
To give us tales of bye-gone days
With other manners, other ways,
While the Tobey twins and Kingfish, they
Sang trios in the modern way.
So those who saw the show before
And many saw it twice—and more—
Found much delightful fun—all new—
That out of love and pity grew.
I think John Meyer's mix-up in dates
Was engineered by smiling fates
That inquiries and questions would
Put people in a "going" mood.
And each one going there meant giving
To help restore to normal living
Disrupted lives and homes forlorn
Of every comfort rudely shorn.
One charming feature I must mention—
Must bring again to your attention—
The contribution from the chorus
Whose voices soared so sweetly o'er us
Whose singing, that night, I thought was
In keeping with the show's great cause.
And Alex. Eves was touched to find
How much the chorus had in mind
To knot the ties of kinship fast
In our own Canada, the vast.
And here a word I'd like to say
About the very splendid way
When with only one short practice
Mrs. Little came among us,
Helping us and Mrs. Blosdale
That the music might not fail.
Those were touches from within
Such as make the whole world kin.
So this dead of kindness done,
With another night of fun,
Chorus, orchestra and cast
On the show have looked their last—
That, unless the unforeseen
Comes again to be the seen!

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Jerry masters handicap

Jerry, ten years old, has greatly improved his muscular control of his spastic fingers through piano practice.

At a very early age, Jerry showed interest in music and wanted to take piano lessons. The problem was to find a teacher who would have the perseverance to teach him. Jerry is a spastic cripple and part of his difficulty is keeping his elbows down and his fingers under control.

Fortunately, a teacher was found for Jerry. He was to be given a short trial period. During the three months trial, Jerry's interest in piano lessons increased; however, the possibilities of his ever playing the piano were remote.

His teacher was persuaded to continue lessons because Jerry was so eager and was proving an apt pupil as far as reading music was concerned. He was interested in writing music, too, and showed unusual ability along this line for one of his years.

When Jerry realized that he would have to keep his elbows down and learn to control his finger action before he could ever play the pieces he wanted to play, the physiotherapy exercises his mother had been helping him with for years took on a new meaning. Jerry asked his mother to help him while he practised his music lessons. Every time she noticed his elbows rising, she was to remind him. Everytime she noticed any of his fingers stiffening away from the keyboard, she was to call his attention to that. Daily practice and attention to difficulties has so improved Jerry's control that Jerry has gained the status of a regular music pupil and his piano-playing compares favorably with others in his age group.

Jerry still must concentrate on controlling his spastic inclinations and that may always be necessary — however, through practice it is becoming easier for him and in the meantime he is making progress along lines of interest which will help immeasurably toward a happy, adjusted life for him.

Creating incentives is of paramount importance in overcoming difficulties.

Cottage cheese for summer

Cottage cheese is excellent at any season but is particularly good in hot weather meals. The slight tartness lends a zest to the appetite and makes it a refreshingly cool as well as nutritious food for inclusion in daily menus during the summer months.

Cottage cheese salad platter may combine cucumbers, carrots, green peppers, cress, radishes, parsley and celery. All fruits blend with cottage cheese so that the salad may be varied as the various fruits are in season. Fruits set in gelatine may be very appealing if set in ring moulds and the centre filled with cottage cheese.

Cottage cheese with jam or fruit jellies and crisp crackers make a welcome and easily assembled dessert at any time of the year.

Cottage cheese is fine in many hot foods. Added to scrambled eggs it is a good luncheon dish.

Tasty fillings, dumplings and pancakes using cottage cheese as an ingredient are also delicious desserts.

LEMON CHEESE TART

½ cup milk
½ cup sugar
2 tbsp. flour
pinch of salt
2 egg yolks
1½ cups creamed cottage cheese
1 tbsp. butter
1 lemon (juice and rind)

Heat milk. Add sugar, flour and salt. Cook mixture until thick, stirring constantly. Pour some of mixture into egg yolks, blend and return to remaining mixture. Cook 3 minutes longer. Add cheese, butter, lemon juice and rind. Pour into baked tart shells. (Fills 10 - 12 medium tarts.)

Variations:

Cover tarts with meringue and bake until lightly browned. Or fold stiffly beaten egg whites into filling after it is cooked, then pour into baked tart shells. Or place 1 tsp. of grape or currant jelly in bottom of tart shells before filling with cheese mixture.

COTTAGE FRUIT SALAD

1½ tbsp. gelatine
¼ cup cold water
1 cup sweetened syrup from canned pears
½ cup cold water
3 tbsp. vinegar
3 cloves
few drops green coloring
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
3 tbsp. mayonnaise
1 cup diced, canned pears
2 cups diced, unpeeled apple

Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. Bring pear syrup, water, vinegar and cloves to boiling point. Boil for 2 minutes and remove the cloves. Add the soaked gelatine and stir until dissolved. Add green coloring. Chill until partially set. In the meantime, blend the cottage cheese and mayonnaise. Add to partially set gelatine mixture and beat with rotary beater until light. Fold in pears and apples. Turn into moistened mould and chill until firm. Unmould on crisp lettuce leaves. Yield: six servings.

Garden graph

Annual vines are handy utilities for covering unsightly places, also in providing quick shade in hot, sunny locations.

There are varieties that are suitable for every purpose—those that love shade and those that must have sun; vines that will cling to brick, stone or wood; vines that are distinctive for their flowers or fragrance; others whose foliage is the outstanding characteristic and which will make a dense screen.

Three annual vines which give quantities of cut flowers, as well as serving utilitarian purposes, are the climbing nasturtium, morning glory and hyacinth bean.

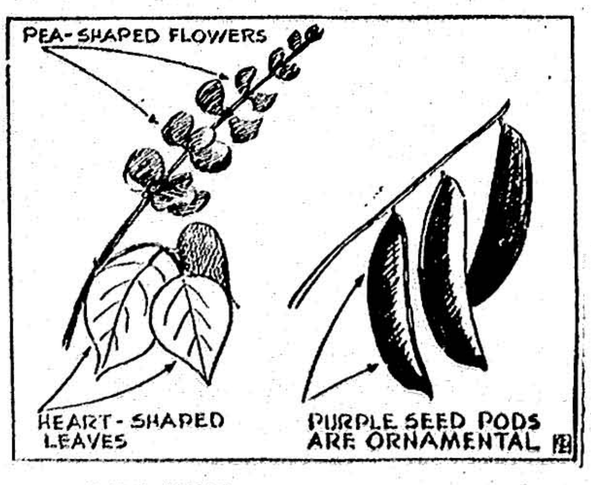

The hyacinth bean vine flowers freely, the blooms varying from white to purple in color. They are pea-shaped and grow in whorls on rigid stems, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

The flowers are followed by a crop of ornamental seed pods, illustrated. The pods are purple in color and velvety in texture. The leaves are heart-shaped, as illustrated.

The seeds of this vine can be sown outdoors as soon as the ground is warm and dry and all danger of frost is over. The vines grow from ten to 20 feet high and do well in any good garden soil.

The morning glory vine is popular with most home gardeners. This is largely due to the fact that it requires little or no attention once the seed is sown. It will grow almost anywhere, but it does best in a light, rich and well-drained soil.

The nasturtium is another annual vine that requires little care. Give it a light soil and lots of sun and it will take care of itself.

FIVE MONTHS AHEAD
Applications coming in now For plow match exhibits

Although still five months away, applications are already coming in for exhibit space in the great "Tent City" which will be part of the annual International Plowing Match. The event this year is scheduled to take place on October 10, 11, 12 and 13.

Held under auspices of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, this will be the 37th annual competition. The four-day match is being held near Alliston on the beautiful Nottawasaga Valley Plantations where there is ample space for the big event and where it will be possible, because of large open areas, to have actual plowing quite close to the "Tent City" where exhibits will be staged.

Extensive preparations are already under way for the event and Secretary-Manager J. A. Carroll discloses that some $14,000 in prizes as well as 11 trips, are included in the prize-list.

Entries have grown from year to year since the match was first inaugurated until, those in charge say, it will be necessary more skilled plowmen. However, among events planned are several for Junior Farmers and two parties of Juniors will be included in those eligible for trips.

Hon. Leslie M. Frost, K.C., Ontario's premier, has accepted an invitation to be guest speaker at the annual banquet when prizes will be awarded to winning plowmen.

Location of this year's match near Alliston is just 50 miles from Toronto, making it easily accessible to all parts of the province.

70th annual meeting Of Twp. S.S. teachers At Hartman church

The 70th annual convention of Sunday-schools of Whitchurch was held in the Hartman United church on Thursday, May 26.

The theme of the convention was Evangelism in the Church School.

Rev. C. P. Shapter, Mount Albert, opened the conention at 9.30 a.m. Mr. Leslie Oldham welcomed all expressing the hope that their school at Hartman would be helped and encouraged and everyone attending would receive fresh inspiration as well as enjoy the day with them at Hartman.

Rev. L. K. Sider, Gormley, gave the morning address, When is a Sunday-school Evangelistic? His remarks were centered on Matthew 28: 19. A few gleanings were: Sunday-school must have sound doctrine founded on the Bible. While churches may differ on small matters there are essential fundamentals: conversion is a divine miracle, making a new creature born of God; there is a lost estate, a possible redemption; a lost estate eternally for all who reject God's plan of salvation and everlasting life for all the saved; teach the truth to young and old; all must recognize they are lost without Christ.

Some may teach moral truths that are fine but not touch the great fundamental truths. Literature, library and hymns should be used with a purpose.

Teachers must have the right doctrine then teach with a spirit of expectation, have a vision of each pupil's need, pray for each. Rely on God's help and direction.

The afternoon session was put in spirit by Mr. Fred Gould, Stouffville, who read Mark 2. Sinners paralized by sin doubt may be brought to Jesus by the persistent efforts, faith, prayers of friends. Every Christian should be a soul winner.

Rev. Dixon Burns, Toronto Bible College, gave an address in the afternoon and evening: "Evangelism and Christian Education" and "Reach, Teach and Win".

He stated the Bible teaches man fell, that God was the evangelist after the lost soul. Evangelism must be perpetual and permanent. Soul winners or Christians are fellow laborers with God.

Boys and girls and adults are either saved or lost. Teachers will meet the verdict on their teaching in eternity. Invest your life in reaching, teaching and winning. Your investment will meet you again. Love, live for your class. Teach the Bible, not about it.

Parents must come to realize more and more their great opportunities and responsibilities.

The brook trout, according to angling experts, is not a trout at all but rather a charr, due to the bone structure of its mouth.

Queensville News

Sunday, June 4, is Shut-Ins Day. Make a special effort to visit or in some way remember those who are sick and disabled. If you are unable to visit remember that a card or letter, a few flowers or a gift will bring a lot of cheer and encouragement into their lives.

On Monday evening a meeting was held in the school to make further plans for our annual Sports Day on Saturday, Aug. 5.

May 24 was spent in various ways. Quite a number attended the Uxbridge horse show. Others went fishing or picnicing. The members of the Baptist church had a bee and painted the outside of the church. Evening followed with the customary display of firecrackers, especially enjoyed by the children.

May 24 guests at the home of Mr. Harry Hulse were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wooley, Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner and son, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stiff and Dr. Irene McGilleuddy, all of Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Stiff are leaving in the near future to make their home in North Hollywood, U.S.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston and Carol spent several days in Niagara Falls, Windsor and other points.

Mrs. George Moore returned on Saturday from a two months' visit in New York and is now visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Smith.

Quite a number attended the musical recital held in Toronto by Miss Mary Carol Knights on Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Cowieson, Toronto, visited Mrs. J. T. Cowieson on Wednesday.

Miss Ruth Mahoney and Miss Margaret Dorgan, Toronto, spent the weekend at their homes.

Softball Team Underway

Finally after all the pros and cons, Queensville's softball team is underway. Some of the younger boys are being worked in. Mr. Titus Peregrine is manager and Mr. Willard Cryderman is coach. They played their first game on Friday evening with the final score 11-6 in favor of Hope.

Mr. Ross McKenzie, Toronto, visited his mother, Mrs. McKenzie, who is still confined to her bed for a further period of rest.

We are pleased to report that Mr. Wm. Huntley and Mr. Lawrence Foster are home from the hospital. We also hear that Mr Frank Kavanagh and Mr. Gene Flanagan are expected home from the hospital this week.

Mrs. C. Milstead is supplying at Second St. school during the absence of the teacher, Mr. Wilson, for two weeks.

For the summer months, beginning on Sunday, June 4, Sunday-school in the United church will begin at 10.30 a.m. and church service at 11.30 a.m.

Postpone 'Bee'

The bee for renovating the United church basement is postponed from Monday, May 29, until Monday, June 5.

The W.A. will meet on Thursday, June 8, in the United church. The ladies of the executive of the W.A. of Toronto Centre Presbytery will supply the program. The hostesses are Mrs. Ed Strasler, Mrs. Max Batt, Dr. Margaret Arkinstall, Mrs. Ross Mahoney, Mrs. Victor Skinner and Mrs. Robt. Stiles.

Plan School Sports Day

On Thursday night, teachers and trustees of Hillside, Ravenshoe, Mount Zion, Union St. and Queensville schools met to plan the annual picnic and sports day for these schools. This will be held at Queensville park on Wednesday, June 21, at 12.30. If any other schools wish to enter they may do so by contacting the president, Mr. A. Alexander, or the secretary, Mrs. Ann Smith. An interesting program of sports and ball games is being planned.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Smith were Mr. Grant Smith and Miss Mary Harris, Oshawa.

Mrs. Archie Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Reg Smith spent the weekend in Burks Falls.

Mrs. A. McDermid, Portage la Prairie Man., is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr and Mrs. Lorne Smith.

Mrs. J. A. Ferguson, Richmond Hill, is visiting her friend, Mrs. Peter Arnold.

On Achievement Day held at Newmarket, Miss Marion Eves won the Eckhardt trophy for girls' work and Mr. Angus Morton won the judging contest on sheep.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wright spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Boag.

Mrs. John Pinder had the misfortune to fall and break her right arm on Monday morning while visiting her son, Kenneth Pinder.

THE SOURCE OF
top management

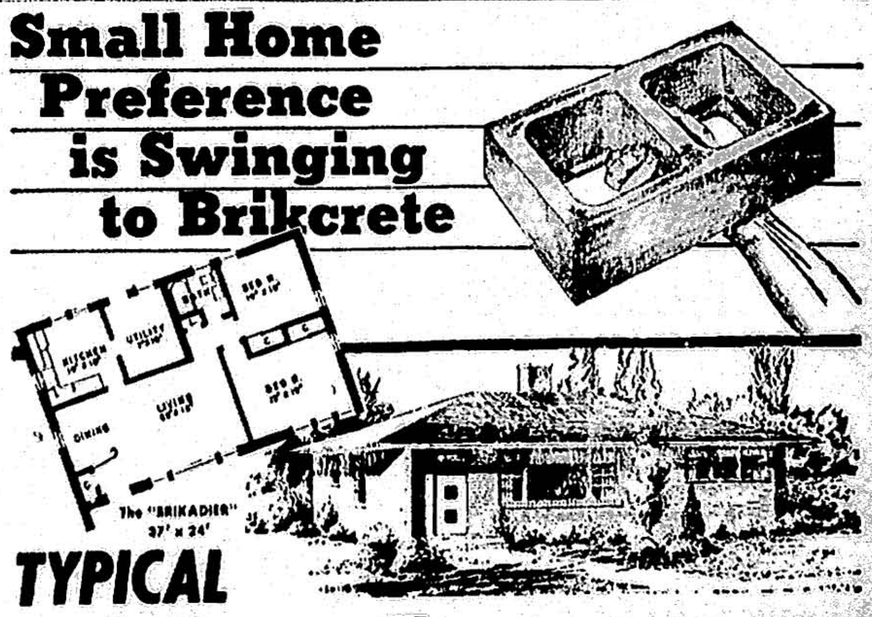

Here is a typical bank manager—43, married, with a growing family. He is active in community affairs. When he joined the bank as a junior, he was 17, just out of high school. He soon moved up. By his late twenties he was accountant in his branch.

He worked hard. All the time he was learning about banking, about Canada, too, in various branches, different areas . . . learning to know people—their hopes, fears, problems—the importance of the human factor.

At 36 he was branch manager. Now he has another, larger branch. And his way to advancement is still open. His general manager started as a junior, too . . . and carried with him to the top the business experience and human understanding gained along the way.
